JAPAN CONSIDERS POLICY IN ORIENT CLOSED TO DEBATE BY OTHER POWERS

Foreign Minister Recalls Withdrawal from League, Says Tokio Will Not Have Opinions Rejected Again.

TO TAKE UP TREATY RIGHTS SEPARATELY

No Objection to Exchanging Views With Individual Nations on Their Interests in China, Hirota Asserts.

By the Associated Press.
TOKIO, May 4.—Foreign Minister Koki Hirota vigorously restated Japan's "hands off China" policy today and implied that Japan proposes now to abstain to discuss the question of peace in the Far East with western powers.

Addressing the annual conference of prefectural governors, the Foreign Minister declared that Japan refuses to submit to a repetition of what happened at Geneva in 1932 "when unfortunately Japan's opinions concerning the maintenance of peace in Eastern Asia were rejected—compelling us to secede from the League of Nations."

Although Hirota mentioned only in Geneva in this, his first, public expression on the Tokyo Government's recently-enunciated policy toward China, there was a strong implication that Japan intends never again to debate oriental issues on equal terms with the occident as she did at Washington in 1928 when the nine-power treaty was signed.

Referring to the Powers' treaty rights in China, Hirota said that "if necessary, Japan is willing to exchange views individually with powers concerned about their rights and interests." But, recalling Japan's difference with the occident which led to her departure from Geneva, he said:

"We shall not repeat what happened at Geneva."

The Foreign Minister restated the main points in recent declarations through which Japan answered the challenges of Great Britain and the United States concerning her policy in Eastern Asia. He reiterated that Japan respects existing treaties and the rights of other powers in China. Then he added: "Japan is the principal protector of the peace and stability of the Far East. It is Japan's mission to maintain peace and order in Eastern Asia in co-operation with the other countries of the Far East. Japan sincerely desires the unification, integrity and prosperity of China, which can be attained only through China's own self-sacrificing efforts."

Hostile Agitation Must Stop. Hirota said the "so-called assistance given China by outside parties with selfish motives will only hamper this purpose, and Japan cannot remain silent when a third party disturbs relations between Japan and China or takes action disturbing the peace of East Asia."

Sino-Japanese relations are becoming closer, the Foreign Minister added, but, he said, "Anti-Japanese movements in China must be stopped." Recently the Chinese have shown an inclination to understand Japan's true motives, paving the way to a genuine understanding between the two countries.

"In view of the radical changes the world is undergoing," said Hirota, "I believe we shall encounter not a few difficulties in the future although our path at present is rather unevenful."

"We should never be off guard. Any nation or race on the road of progress should be prepared to meet the obstacles which, it may be said, are the proofs of its progress. We need not fear them as long as we have the indomitable will to surmount them."

Text of Declaration. The most important passage in the speech, as translated by the Renji (Japanese) news agency and officially approved, read:

"We have no objection whatever to exchanging views, if necessary, with each individual Power regarding treaty rights and interests."

"But, in view of the fact that on questions of East Asia our views were rejected by the Powers at the Geneva meeting of the League, it would surely be unwise to reproduce a situation such as was encountered at Geneva."

"We will, therefore, hold on to our responsibilities and try to promote an understanding with the other Powers concerned."

DILLINGER'S GIRL

GUNMAN KILLED BY OZARK POSSE; COMPANION SHOT

Bloodhounds Lead State Highway Police and Citizens to Hideout Near Cabool, Mo.

WOMAN SEEN WITH PAIR CAPTURED

She Is Supposed to Be Wife of Man Slain After He Had Fired at Patrolmen.

By the Associated Press.
CABOOL, Mo., May 4.—Ozark bloodhounds were credited today with leading officers and possemen to a hideout where one gunman was killed and his brother wounded and captured.

The end of a 24-hour search for the man came near here yesterday after the hounds had trailed the pair seven miles through dense underbrush. The dead man, identified today as Edgar Allen of Quincy, Ill., was killed after he had emptied his pistol at patrolmen and possemen. His companion, who gave his name as Walter Allen, 18, Quincy, Ill., was shot in one arm. He said he recently had been paroled from the Missouri intermediate reformatory.

Woman Arrested Earlier. In earlier in the day officers had arrested a woman who was seen with the men during a chase in which they fired at a patrolman and took pot shots at citizens of Mountain View, Mo. The woman was captured a short distance from where the fugitives had abandoned their motor car. A quantity of allegedly stolen merchandise was found in the machine.

Officers at Quincy said both men were wanted there for theft of an automobile from an agency show room March 29. They attempted to sell the car in Cedar Rapids, Ia., officers said, but escaped arrest.

Walter Allen today said that the man who was killed was his brother. The dead man was at first identified as Harry Williams, Evanston, Ill., but Allen said that name was an alias.

Woman Sticks to Story. Although the woman captured clung to the story that she was Florence Isley, a hitch hiker picked up near Charleston, young Allen declared that she was his brother's wife. He said all three of them had been in Kentucky and Tennessee.

"I don't know anything about him. You'll have to ask that boy with him," the woman said this morning when an undertaker urged her to give him some information about the dead man's relatives. She is in the Texas County jail at Houston.

Walter Allen, suffering from a fractured arm, insisted that the woman was his brother's wife. Their mother and father are dead, he said, but there is a sister, Mrs. Mildred Clingman of Quincy, he said.

Allen said he had been out of the Algoa (Mo.) reformatory four months and that he originally was sent up from Hannibal, Mo.

PHILIPPINES SEEK $23,862,000 PROFIT ON DEVALUATION

Bill Offered in House Provides Treasury Establish Credit for Insular Government.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Congress was asked yesterday to credit the Philippine Islands with $23,862,750 representing the amount the Insular Government contends is due it because of the reduction last Jan. 31 in the gold content of the dollar. The proposal was made in a bill introduced by Chairman E. M. Duffie of the House Insular Affairs committee.

The Foreign Minister restated the main points in recent declarations through which Japan answered the challenges of Great Britain and the United States concerning her policy in Eastern Asia. He reiterated that Japan respects existing treaties and the rights of other powers in China. Then he added:

"Japan is the principal protector of the peace and stability of the Far East. DETECTIVES GET NEW PISTOLS

20 High-Powered Automatic Weapons Purchased.

Twenty of the latest high-powered Colt automatic pistols have been purchased by the St. Louis Police Department and will be carried by detectives in the 10 cruisers starting today, Acting Chief of Police McCarthy announced today.

The pistols are .45 caliber and hold 12 rounds in the magazine. According to McCarthy, the pistols are an improvement over the Whippet guns now being used.

CLEVELAND BANK LENT MILLIONS TO ITS OFFICERS

Report to Senators Tells of Control by J. R. Nutt Who Was 'Influenced' by Van Sweringens.

DIRECTOR WHO PROTESTED CUSTED

Failure Attributed to Unsound Practices Over Period of Years—"Window Dressing" Loans.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, May 4.—Investigators reported to a Senate Committee today that the policies which led to the failure of the Union Trust Company of Cleveland, capitalized at $35,000,000, were dictated by Joseph R. Nutt and that he was "influenced" by the Van Sweringens.

Nutt, former treasurer of the Republican National Committee, and O. P. Van Sweringen, railroad builder, are under indictment for what investigators term a "window dressing" loan to the bank. Nutt once was president of the institution.

The report naming them was submitted to the Senate Stock Market and Banking Investigating Committee today by Ferdinand Pecora, counsel.

Unsound Banking Practices.

It held the bank's failure was due to "unsound banking practices over a period of years." Among the practices named were "heavy investment in real estate," "excessive concentration of loans to the Van Sweringen and Eaton interests," "loans to officers, directors and their affiliated corporations," a bad dividend policy and inadequacy of reserves. The Van Sweringen brothers, O. P. and M. J., are chiefly interested in railroads, including the Missouri Pacific. Cyrus S. Eaton is a financier.

Pecora's report, prepared by Frank J. Meshan, his chief statistician, and Walter H. Seymour, charged general use of "window dressing" practices by the bank and suggested it had obtained advance notice of bank calls.

Other conclusions reported were: Loans to the Van Sweringen companies at times exceeded the legal limit.

A director who objected to them, D. L. Johnson, was not re-elected. The Union Trust turned over to J. P. Morgan & Co. as collateral on a Van Sweringen loan the same collateral it held as trustee for other Cleveland banks on previous loans.

Collusion among officers of the bank to misapply funds for their own benefit.

"The management policies of the Union Trust Co. were dictated by a small group of men," the report said. "Chief among these men was the bank's first president, Joseph R. Nutt, later elected chairman of the board. Others associated with Nutt in the domination of the bank's policies were: Wilbur M. Baldwin, president; George A. Coulton, vice-president; Frank H. Ginn, director; Kenyon V. Painter, director, and Otto Miller, director.

Some Directors Rejected.

"Certain of the directors of the Union Trust Co." the report continued, "being entirely 'fed up' with the domination of the bank's affairs by this group, rebelled. Although the minutes of the bank do not show the true reasons, the dissenting directors forced the resignation of Joseph R. Nutt as chairman of the board on May 24, 1932, to be effective June 30, 1932."

"One of the chief causes of the ultimate failure of the Union Trust Co." the report said, "was the excessive concentration of loans to the Van Sweringens. On May 1, 1933, there with accrued interest totaled $14,274,013."

"At times during the past few years the loans to the individual Van Sweringen companies or to the Van Sweringens themselves exceeded the legal limits of the bank's loaning power.

"When these loans were questioned they were readjusted by transfer within the companies. D. L. Johnson, a director, demanded his dissent from the Van Sweringen loans be recorded in the bank's minutes because he thought it would be helpful.

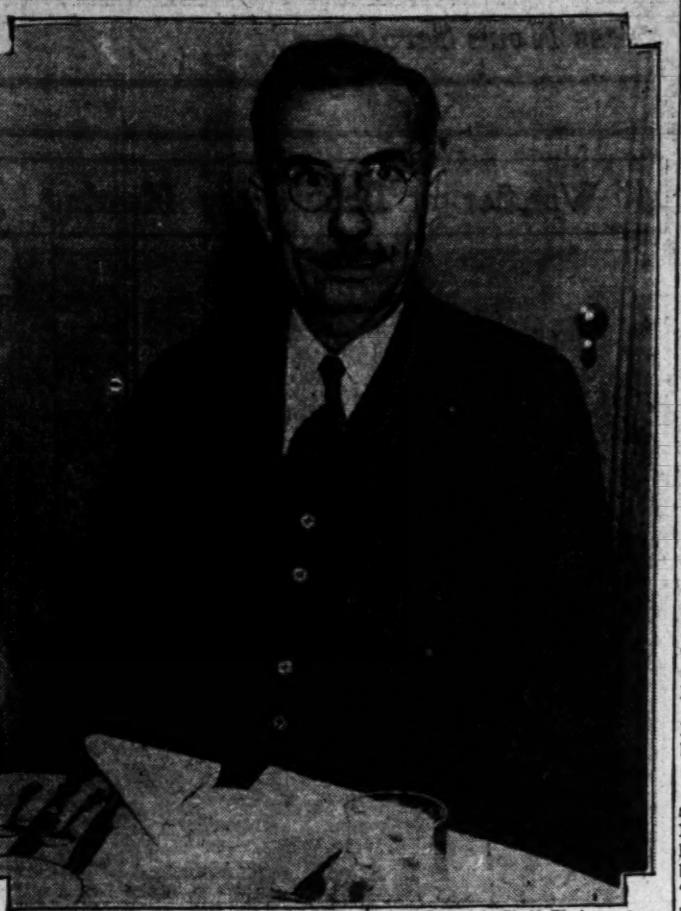

"Johnson dissented to a specific loan to Higbee Co., a Van Sweringen corporation, but the loan was made anyhow. He was not re-elected to the board. Later a loan to Daisy Hill Co., as sentiment grew against the Van Sweringen loans, was refused by the main office, but later was made through the terminal office on the oral approval of Nutt."

The limit of Van Sweringen borrowing was reached in October, 1930, the report said, and they went to Morgan & Co., for $35,000,000. Morgan demanded collateral, but it was all tied up in the Union Trust as collateral on loans from Cleveland banks.

When the bank was closed, the report said, directors owed $3,146,788, of which $3,000,000 was due from Painter.

"Our investigation discloses that this indebtedness resulted from the unlawful collusion between painter, Baldwin and Carlson for the purpose of willfully misappropriating the monies, funds and credits for the direct use, benefit and advantage of Baldwin and Carlson."

Wallace on Tariff and Supply and Demand.

In an address concluding the convention speech making Secretary of Agriculture Wallace said, the nation sooner or later may have to engage in more difficult control of agriculture, if certain other laws, such as the tariff, are not changed.

Wallace also replied to statements that the administration should allow the normal law of supply and demand to bring about the necessary adjustments. "In a world of universal peace, no tariffs, no export quotas, no corporations, no labor unions," he said, "I am confident that the law of supply and demand would work in the classical economists," but due to the "terrible disruption" of the World War and a disregard for the long-time operations of the war during the past 15 years, he concluded some adjustment at the present time is imperative.

Local newspapers published the dispatches from London without comment.

JAPAN CONSIDERS POLICY IN ORIENT CLOSED TO DEBATE

given Ambassador Matsudaira yesterday in London by Walter Runnymede, president of the British Board of Trade. They said that Matsudaira's report had not yet reached their office and therefore they were not informed of the contents of the communication, but that they were not ready to believe it could be described as a virtual ultimatum.

Japan's authorities admitted that a British action to compel a showdown on Anglo-Japanese trade difficulties was not surprising since the Tokio Government had already promulgated the "safeguarding of commerce law," passed by the last Parliament to enable quick reprisals when Japan's trade is damaged.

Other Amendments Defeated. By 55 to 30, the House rejected an attempt by Hollister (Rep., Ohio), to strike out language holding liable those who "control" persons who go beyond the law. The Ohioan had argued that such a provision would make it extremely difficult to decide between the guilty and the innocent.

Hollister also attempted to remove another provision allowing commissioners to obtain written testimony in those mills bring to bear on those representatives, during the year for which those representatives were elected, any policy of any kind of concern to all of the organization?"

Discussion on Shutdown.

Informed that the Weirton plants were working continuously, Judge Nields asked if the suggested mass meeting would involve shutting down the operation. Nebeker said he did not deem that important.

"The mere fact that it might work some hardship on the defendant is beside the point," he said.

"Yes," observed the Court, "but the defendant and the men are pulling together and production is the interest of both; and if there is to be a cessation of production, I do not see how working men are upheld."

Oral argument was concluded to day and Judge Nields allowed 10 days for each side to file supplementary briefs.

Nebeker suggested that is "their problem and one that they should have been permitted to work out in a complete group or to have any way of formulating plans between elections."

HOPKINS MAKES SPEECH ON RELIEF TO 500 JOBLESS

Forests Demonstration of Unemployed by Addressing Crowd Opposite Hotel in Knoxville.

SURE' CONGRESS WILL VOTE MILLIONS

Getting Tired of Suggestions From State Governments That 'Haven't Put Up a Dime.'

By the Associated Press.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., May 4.—Forestalling a scheduled demonstration of unemployed, Harry L. Hopkins, Federal Relief Administrator, told a crowd of 500 here last night that he felt sure Congress would appropriate "more millions" for relief soon.

Hopkins addressed a regional conference of the Southern Welfare Association here in the afternoon.

This week word was spread over Knox County that a mass demonstration of unemployed who have been cut off relief rolls would be held upon his arrival here.

An hour before the time set for the demonstration last night 500 gathered on the lawn of the courthouse, just across the street from the hotel where Hopkins was to be honored guest at a dinner.

A committee appointed from the crowd called upon the Relief Director at the hotel. Hopkins, accompanied by Mayor John T. O'Connor and other city officials went across the street to address the gathering.

Doesn't Like Relief Job.

Hopkins told the crowd that he has been in his present work a long time and didn't like it.

"I don't like to see a crowd like this," he declared, "and I don't like to have people come to me and ask for relief—and I know that you don't like to have to come to me and ask for it."

"In any depression it is the working man who suffers and this one is no exception. It is not the people who may lose their dividends who suffer, it is those who want to work and can't."

When President Roosevelt took office one of the first things he did was to set aside $500,000,000 for relief. Then he started the CWA and promised to give 4,000,000 people work during the winter months. He kept that promise. And I feel sure that more millions will be appropriated for relief soon."

Ending his short talk with a plea for patience on the part of the unemployed, Hopkins returned to the hotel.

Criticizes State Governments.

In his address earlier in the day, Hopkins called on state governments to help share the cost of unemployment relief.

"I'm getting tired of state governments that haven't put up a dime for relief, having anything to say about relief administration," he said.

"I think some state governments and some Governors have some things to answer for, and I think it high time for some of them to discharge their responsibilities."

"Outside of 16 or 18 states, officials and legislators have never realized the importance or seriousness of the relief job," the administrator declared. "I appeal, not on behalf of the Federal Government, but on behalf of the unemployed, for these people to step up and do their share."

He praised the "great job" done by cities in providing relief and said that "in the main since the depression, the local unit of government has held the bag and put up the money."

"I think," he said, "that the principle still holds that relief work should be shared by local, state and Federal governments."

Hopkins said that "it hadn't been for the CWA this country would have had the largest relief rolls it ever had last winter."

Says Highway Jobs Should Be Given to Those in Need.

By the Associated Press.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 4.—A program of planned public works is regarded by Relief Administrator Hopkins as a means of providing financial independence for 600,000 farm families.

In an address prepared for the Federal Rural Rehabilitation conference, he said today that "we are coming to the point where every job on the state highways from coast to coast is going to be definitely planned for and given to particular people on the basis of their own particular needs."

The conference is attended by relief directors and heads of agricultural extension services from Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, North Dakota, South Dakota, Kentucky and Tennessee.

"We are going to stop this polarization of jobs in the highway departments of America; we are not going to get home with this unless we can tie up whatever public works are going to be done in America with farm families," Hopkins said. He added that the 600,000 farm families now on relief were going to gain a decent life only while they are identified ultimately with the land.

RUSSIANS ON FLOE NEVER LOST MORALE

$347 AWARD FOLLOWS 15 YEARS' LITIGATION

Keeping Up Nerve Was Chief Problem, Says Head of Rescued Party.

By the Associated Press.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 4.—Out of the suffering and privation of 101 Russians, marooned for weeks on the ice floes of the Arctic Ocean, will come a new, valuable trade route, and a fresh manifestation of the Soviet spirit, says Dr. Otto Schmidt, leader of the Chelyuskin scientific expedition. His Soviet expedition to Wrangel Island in the interest of colonization as well as science, was stranded when the ship Chelyuskin was crushed in the ice. Its members were rescued by Soviet planes.

Establishment of the new route along the Siberian Arctic Coast, through use of new, heavier, ice-breaking ships that can withstand the terrific buffeting of the packs, may open up vast resources of gold and oil to be handled through the ports of Vladivostok and Archangel.

Regaining His Strength.

"I hope the first big ice-breaker used along this route will be named the 'Stalin,'" said Dr. Schmidt, who was stricken with pneumonia while the expedition was on the ice floes.

Already he had started to regain his strength with a substantial diet of ham and eggs, and was considering, he said, with a twinkle, plans to grow the American grapefruit in Southern Russia.

"The greatest danger in the Arctic," he said, "was loss of morale."

Fortunately, the men trusted me.

When the ship was ground to pieces, and sank, we tossed ashore food, tents, and other supplies.

"As the boat sank, barrels of oil and lumber floated to the surface.

We built barracks for the women,

the children and the unstrung men.

Sometimes in the night the ice floes would crack, and split apart.

These were hard times, but the men believed in me and we came through.

Barracks Wrecked by Ice.

"After the women and children were taken from the ice by the Soviet planes, their barracks were torn to pieces by the breaking up of the ice. We had the morale, and everything came out all right. I am weak but I shall recuperate for perhaps a month in San Francisco, then go to Moscow by way of your eastern cities.

In August, perhaps I can come back with another Soviet expedition.

If I am not strong enough, the expedition will go without me."

Prof. Schmidt arrived here from Alaska with Prof. George Ushakov, leader of the Soviet airplane rescue expedition which took the marooned Russians from the ice to the American side of the Arctic Ocean. Ushakov, in contrast to Dr. Schmidt, spoke little English.

$103,000 SEWER REPORT USELESS, HAY DECLARES

City Counselor Would Have Work of Dea Peres Condemnation Board Since 1927 Done Over.

The work of the commission for the River des Peres drainage improvement, in assessing benefits and awarding damages in condemnation proceedings, will have to be done over again at added cost, if a motion by City Counselor Hay to set aside the commission's report is upheld in the Circuit Court.

Expenses for the commission, which has held 113 meetings since December, 1927, deliberating on benefits and damages, amount to $103,000. The figure includes cost of appraisals, certificates of title, clerical work, court costs and $5 a meeting for each of the three commissioners, whose fees totaled $16,995.

The expenses were met from the $87,000 bond issue, voted in 1923 for public improvement ultimately the taxpayers' cost, from which source the expenses of a new commission also would be taken.

Hay for Permanent Board.

"The motion is a result of the present system of naming separate commissions for each public improvement by a Circuit Court judge," Counselor Hay said today to a Post-Dispatch reporter. "The remedy is the permanent condemnation commission, the establishment of which is a question pending before the State Supreme Court."

"I believe consideration of political patronage in appointing condemnation commissioners could effectively be eliminated through appointments by all the circuit judges, as provided for under the permanent commission system. Qualified, efficient commissioners could be secured. There would be less delay, more public attention. The permanent commission would operate more like a court of record."

The commissioners, whose report may be held over, said, "We are not armed and surrendered without resistance."

DISCLOSES THREAT TO KILL KIDNAPED CHILD AND FATHER

Grandmother of Victim Says Both Were to Be Slain if $15,000 Ransom
Were Not Paid.

By the Associated Press.
TUCSON, Ariz., May 4.—Mrs. Bernabe Robles disclosed yesterday that death threats were made against two persons when her granddaughter, 6-year-old June Robles, was kidnaped on April 25 and held for $15,000 ransom.

The original ransom note, she said, declared that both the girl and her father, Fernando Robles, who is the elderly Mrs. Robles' son, would be killed unless the ransom was paid.

The family has the $15,000 ready and has been attempting to pay it to the abductors.

Thinks Child Is in Tucson.

Mrs. Robles expressed the conviction the kidnaping was the work of persons in Tucson, where she thinks the girl is held.

"My son each night makes the trips those people ask him to. The money waits. What can we do? They will not come. If only they would come!" she said.

While the contents of the original ransom note delivered by a small boy after the kidnaping, never have been publicly disclosed, authoritative sources said it demanded that the girl's father drive along a lonely road until certain signals were received, when he was to toss the money out and continue without stopping.

"If only we could have kept the silence at first," Mrs. Robles said. "It was terrible though, when the note said they must have $15,000 between 5 o'clock and 9 o'clock that night they took June. How could we get that much money with the banks closed?

"They were stupid. They should have given us more time. But fear would not let us to keep the silence, for they threatened to kill not only the baby but my Fernando if the money was not given."

Denies Chauffeur Is Go-Between.

Carlos G. Robles, uncle of the kidnaped girl, denied rumors that Alfonso Aguirre, chauffeur for Bernabe Robles on a search for the girl last week-end in Sonora, Mexico, was acting as an intermediary between the family and the kidnapers.

Mr. Aguirre is an acquaintance of ours that is all," said Carlos Robles who is Assistant Pima County Attorney. "Mr. Aguirre is not an intermediary and will not be."

"We are optimistic that something soon is to happen to bring June back to us," he said yesterday.

All authorities remained out of the investigation while the family awaited word from the kidnapers.

HATRED OF TOP SERGEANTS

Man Who Waved Gun on Jefferson Barracks Parade Ground, Drunk, He Said.

An abiding and instinctive hatred for Army sergeants, "particularly top sergeants," overcame Leonard M. Scott, former private, Wednesday night, when he had drunk his fill and gone to Jefferson Barracks, where he stood on the parade grounds in the moonlight, flourishing a hunting knife, and proclaiming his eagerness to defend his opinions about sergeants.

Scott, who served 10 years in the Army, one-fourth of that time under discipline because of his inability to get along with sergeants, was placed under arrest. Yesterday when a Federal warrant was issued, charging him with flourishing a deadly weapon on an Army reservation, he said he had no recollection of going to the Barracks but affirmed his contempt for sergeants, "particularly top sergeants."

Informated that the maximum penalty for his offense was two years in prison and a fine of $1000, Scott was unperturbed. "Any jury," he said, "would know that a man would have to be drunk to try to lick the whole army with that knife."

STOLEN FROM SHOP IN NIGHT

Bars Removed and Window forced at 4230 Olive; Second Theft
There.

Thirty-two Oriental rugs valued at $6447 were reported stolen yesterday by D. A. Serope, rug dealer at 4230 Olive street. The theft occurred, Serope said, sometime between 7 p. m. Wednesday night and 7 a. m. yesterday.

Police found iron bars had been removed from a rear window, opening on an alley, and the window forced open.

Four years ago eight rugs, valued at $665, were stolen from the store, a few weeks after Serope had been swindled out of five rugs valued at $2800, which the swindler ordered delivered to an office where he was not known and removed before the dealer discovered his mistake.

Three Put Into Icebox by Robber.
A chain grocery at 3156 Park avenue was held up today by two men, one of them armed, who forced the manager, Hila Holland, the butcher, Albert Becker, and Roscoe De Pew, a customer, 2210A Rutgers street, into an icebox and took $70 from cash registers.

ST. LOUIS EX-CONVICT FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER IN IOWA

Edward Talient to Be Sentenced at Wapello Today for Killing Aged Farmer.

By the Associated Press.

WAPELLO, Iowa, May 4.—Edward Talient, St. Louis ex-convict, was found guilty by a jury yesterday of first degree murder in the killing of Martin Wolz, reputed wealthy farmer, last July.

The jury reported yesterday afternoon after deliberating since Wednesday night. Judge Smythe said he would pass sentence today.

Talient and Tony Thompson, also of St. Louis, were indicted for the killing of Wolz, who was shot when he resisted robbers. Paul Hake, a resident of Louisa County, was also charged in the case.

FIRE RISK FIRMS BEATEN AGAIN IN $18,000,000 FIGHT

Missouri Supreme Court Refuses to Hold Up Judgment for Return of Excess Premiums.

SAYS JUDGE SEVIER MAY GO AHEAD

Also Decides 143 Companies Had No Right to Collect Higher Rates Pending Litigation.

By BOYD F. CARROLL, A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, May 4.—The Missouri Supreme Court on Friday afternoon ruled Cole County Circuit Court had jurisdiction to compel stock fire insurance companies operating in Missouri to make full restitution to policyholders of excess fire insurance premiums collected during seven years of litigation over a 10 per cent rate reduction, ordered by the State in 1922.

The court went a step further and held the 143 companies involved in the proceeding had no legal authority to collect the higher rates during the litigation, which continued from 1922 until the reduction finally was sustained by the United States Supreme Court in 1929. In this period the companies collected $13,087,619 in excess premiums, representing the difference between the old rates and the reduction ordered by the State Insurance Department. The old rates were collected by the companies during the litigation.

Refuses Writ of Prohibition.

The Supreme Court, by its ruling, refused to issue a writ of prohibition which had been sought by the companies, to restrain Judge Nike Sevier of Cole County Circuit from entering a judgment against the companies for the excess premiums, plus interest.

Judge Sevier a year ago entered a judgment against the companies for $18,673,796 representing the $13,087,619 in excess premiums collected from Nov. 15, 1922, to Aug. 9, 1929, and $5,586,177 in interest.

This judgment against the 143 companies was to be modified by credits for whatever amounts of excess premiums the companies could show they had refunded to the policyholders.

The exact amount still due policyholders in refunds never has been definitely determined by the State Insurance Department. Estimates of the amount unrefunded have varied from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000. The companies were directed to make reports on the refunds, but definite information was not received by the department.

Attorneys for the companies have contended that some of them have refunded up to 98 per cent of the amounts they owed their policyholders, but failed for all the companies have not been presented.

Judge Sevier's judgment was in a proceeding instituted by former State Insurance Superintendent Joseph B. Thompson to compel restitution by the companies for an accounting, and for distribution of the remaining refunds due under the direction of the Court. It was instituted as a reopening of the original suit over the 10 per cent reduction order.

Companies' Contentions.

After the lower Court judgment was entered, the companies sought a writ of prohibition from the Supreme Court, contending the lower Court had no jurisdiction to entertain the restitution proceeding, or to appoint referees to conduct an accounting, or to enter the judgment. It was contended the Circuit Court had lost jurisdiction of the rate proceeding after the higher courts had finally sustained the reduction order.

Chief Justice William F. Frank, who wrote the opinion handed down this afternoon, ruled the lower court had full jurisdiction in the case. He modified the lower court's order, however, to the extent that Judge Sevier could appoint only three referees to conduct the accounting, instead of the four already named, and held the lower court did not have power to issue an order requiring the companies to deposit $70,000 toward expenses of the accounting.

Under a stipulation entered into by the insurance department and the companies in the original rate suit, the companies were permitted to collect the old rates during the litigation, then were required to make full refunds of the reduction was sustained. The Cole County Circuit Court approved the stipulation.

"Non-Enforceable When Made."

"That part of the order authorizing relators (companies) to collect, pending the review suit, the rates of premium in force prior to making of the reduction order, was invalid and non-enforceable when made," Judge Frank said, "because in violation of section 6284, revised statutes of 1919 M., which provides that during the pendency of a suit to review a rate reduction order, the insurer shall not charge any rate of premium in excess of that fixed

ST. LOUIS RELIEF COST LOWEST OF BIG CITIES

Research Director's Report Shows 104 Pct. Increase in 1933, However.

St. Louis spent less for relief in 1933, both in actual amount spent and on a per capita basis, than any other large city in the country, according to an analysis of relief costs made by Irving Weissman, research director for the Community Council. The city held the same record in 1932 and 1931.

The relief cost for 1933, however, was an increase of 104.8 per cent over the cost for 1932. In 1932 it was an increase of 131 per cent over 1931, and in 1931 an increase of 164.0 per cent over 1930.

The following table lists the per capita costs in nine cities, excluding New York and Chicago, which have no centralized relief agency, making comparison impossible:

Boston	$19.80
Buffalo	18.91
Milwaukee	11.96
Baltimore	10.79
Los Angeles	10.04
Cleveland	9.17
Detroit	8.43
Pittsburgh	7.95
St. Louis	6.59

The actual amount spent by the same cities for relief is given in the following table. The figures do not include salaries of social workers and administration costs.

Los Angeles	$22,276,972
Detroit	17,778,022
Pittsburgh	15,540,666
Boston	15,311,291
Buffalo	14,068,809
Cleveland	10,982,920
Milwaukee	7,783,946
Baltimore	6,688,489
St. Louis	6,554,810

How the depression shot up the cost of relief was pointed out by Weissman in a table which showed that from 1929 to 1933 it increased 1344.9 per cent. In this respect St. Louis was only below Pittsburgh among the cities mentioned.

by the Superintendent of Insurance.

While holding the order which authorized collection of the higher rates during the litigation was invalid, Judge Frank said the companies could not assert this invalidity of the order in contesting the restitution, as they had "obtained the fruits of the invalid order."

"Upon the rendition of the final judgment upholding the rate reduction order," Judge Frank said, "it then became the duty of the insurance companies to restore to the policyholders the excess in premiums collected from them pending the review suit, without waiting for any demand to be made therefor. The only time limit upon the policyholders' right to enforce restoration is the statute of limitations."

Rules Part Invalid

He ruled invalid a part of the trial court order in the original rate proceeding which required policyholders to make written demands for refunds within 90 days after receiving notice from the companies of the amount of refund due them. This order required the companies to issue such notices "forthwith" after the reduction order was sustained.

Such an order, with the limitation was contrary to the letter and spirit of the law, Judge Frank said, and if enforced, would take from the policyholders rights guaranteed to them by law.

The other judges of court en banc concurred, except Judge Ledy who did not sit in the case, and Judge Ellison, who is absent.

The litigation over the 1922 reduction order was concluded in 1929 and the reduced rates put into effect by the companies in August, 1929 under protest. The reduction did not continue for long, as the companies filed an application for a 16.2-23 per cent increase in December, 1929. They forced the increase into effect in June, 1930, through an injunction proceeding in Federal District Court. Suits in which the State is contesting this increase are pending in both the Federal and State Courts.

Watchman, Trapped at Far End of Dock, Carried to Safety on a Tug.
By the Associated Press.

BROOKLYN, May 4.—One man was killed and tropical cargoes valued at $3,000,000 were destroyed by fire at an old Brooklyn pier last night.

Albert Bennett, 70 years old, assistant to the general superintendent, was burned to death. A watchman, Thomas Hanson, was trapped at the far end of the pier, but was carried to safety on a tug. Another watchman, Ray Elwood, was burned as he struggled away from the flames and more than 30 firemen were cut or affected by the smoke.

The fire was thought to have started in the center of the pier, No. 38, but the cause was not determined. The blaze, feeding on piles of crude rubber, gum, feathers, bamboo and general cargoes, transformed the pier in the Atlantic basin into a roaring furnace. There were no ships at the pier.

INDEPENDENT OIL MEN TO ORGANIZE COUNCIL

Purpose Is Announced as Protection of Interests Under Petroleum Code.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, May 4.—Formation of the National Petroleum Council, which has as its stated purpose the protection of the interests of independent oil producers, was announced here yesterday. The announcement followed a meeting of representatives of independent oil producers, refiners and marketers from various sections of the country. J. Edward Jones of New York was named chairman of the council.

Jones said the council would attempt to keep independent oil producers informed on developments in the industry, and protect their interests. He said there will be regional units in each of the 48 states, over which regional chairmen will be chosen. The national chairman will make up the board of directors of the national body and will determine its policies. Headquarters will be in New York.

Joe Danciger of Fort Worth, Tex., was announced as head of the Texas unit; H. H. Champlin of Enid for Oklahoma; E. W. Pauley of Los Angeles for California; D. B. Gurney of Yankton for South Dakota, and A. W. Craft of Avoca for Pennsylvania. Jones said the other state chairmen were being selected.

"The need for this nation-wide organization to represent the independents in the petroleum industry should be rather obvious," he said. "The independents need their association in self defense. Conditions arising largely from the administration of the petroleum code, should serve to prompt anyone to act toward giving all factions of the industry the right to exist under our competitive system."

"Recent hearings before the National Recovery Review Board showed conclusively the plights of the independent producers, refiners and marketers and consumers. It disclosed also the highly favorable position of the major organizations which are entrenched in the administrative machinery of the code by reason of their positions on the various advisory committees."

BOARD COMPLETES ITS REPORT ON NRA AND SMALL BUSINESS

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 4.—The Darrow board report to President Roosevelt on NRA's effect on small business has been completed and signed by all but one member.

Clarence Darrow, chairman of the unit officially known as the National Recovery Review Board, told newspaper men he did not know when the document would be given the chief executive. He added that only John F. Sinclair of New York had refused to support its conclusions.

Lowell Mason, secretary of the board, said the report covered the first few codes under which complaints of small units were heard, among them those covering the steel, coal, motion picture, electrical manufacturing and rubber industries.

WALLACE PLEDGES SELF TO PLANNED MIDDLE COURSE

Secretary Declares It Is "Only Sensible Way Out" of Present Foreign Trade Situation.

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Secretary of Agriculture Wallace expanded his views on the tariff last night and committed himself to "a planned middle course" between nationalism and internationalism as "the only sensible way out" of the present foreign trade situation.

He addressed a broadcast to a series sponsored by the Foreign Policy Association, brought into clearer relief his conception of how American agriculture and industry can regain foreign markets.

"I am more convinced today than ever before," he said, "that America must make certain choices or she will fall several years hence into a worse ditch than that of 1932, and in the process will drag a considerable part of the world with her."

"Acceptable to Thoughtful."

The planned middle course between the two extremes is, he added, "acceptable to the more thoughtful among the sincere, understanding Republicans and Democrats, and representatives of labor, agriculture and industry."

"The problem is not one of partisan politics and in some ways I regret that the discussion has had to take place in a political year. However, I am glad to say that in private discussion I have found both Republicans and Democrats very much alike in their fundamental understanding of this problem."

America must continually choose,

the Secretary said, "but some of her choices are now 10 or 15 years overdue. The artificialities of absurd tariffs and embargoes and exchange quotas over the entire world has forced nearly all nations of the world to take many strange and artificial actions to protect their farmers."

"Mutually Subsidized Insanity."

Along the path of subsidization by various countries of the export of competing products "lies mutualy subsidized insanity," he added.

No country, the Secretary asserted, gains under the present system and the United States can lead the way when the people understand the problem and act on their wishes known in Washington.

"So far, Washington has heard chiefly from the protected industries. It is time for Washington to hear in equally emphatic manner from the farmers employed in agriculture and export industry and the 35,000,000 wage earners who as consumers are interested in reasonable competition and reasonable living costs."

The United States has power to adapt herself as skillfully to her creditor position as England after the Napoleonic war but she must become more consciously a nation, Wallace said, adding "It means understanding; not regimentation. It means free and open discussions; not name-calling."

Praises Speech of Stimson.

If the tariff bill granting the President power to adjust tariffs and make reciprocal foreign trade agreements passes Congress, progress will still be made only slowly.

"It is doubtful if there will be sufficient increase in imports at any time during the next two or three years to enable us in the Agricultural Adjustment Administration to make any great change in the program which we have been following."

Wallace took cognizance of the speech Sunday by former Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson in which the latter favored readjustment of American tariffs.

"Mr. Stimson has the courage to rise above the partisanship of the historical Republican attitude and to urge that the present tariff bill transferring certain powers temporarily from Congress to the Secretary of State be undoubtedly become familiar with the handicap under which the United States labors in international trade."

"Acceptable to Thoughtful."

The planned middle course between the two extremes is, he added, "acceptable to the more thoughtful among the sincere, understanding Republicans and Democrats, and representatives of labor, agriculture and industry."

"The problem is not one of partisan politics and in some ways I regret that the discussion has had to take place in a political year. However, I am glad to say that in private discussion I have found both Republicans and Democrats very much alike in their fundamental understanding of this problem."

America must continually choose,

the Secretary said, "but some of her choices are now 10 or 15 years overdue. The artificialities of absurd tariffs and embargoes and exchange quotas over the entire world has forced nearly all nations of the world to take many strange and artificial actions to protect their farmers."

"Mutually Subsidized Insanity."

800 GIRLS SEEK 84 JOBS
IN MUNY OPERA CHORUS

First Tryouts Held at American Theater With 31 Chosen Definitely.

The first tryouts for positions in the Municipal Opera chorus this summer were held today at the American Theater with more than 800 girls on hand to try for the 84 places in the chorus.

Thus, each girl present has about one chance in 10 of obtaining a position. By noon, 31 girls, R. Simmons' personal representative of J. J. Shiffert, general productions manager, had heard 228 girls sing the first notes of the scale. Of this number, 31 were selected for the chorus, 70 were put down as possibilities and 125 failed to qualify.

The contestants were given three grades, A, B and C. Those marked C are almost sure of obtaining positions. Those receiving a grade of B are possibilities, while those marked A are definitely out.

$10,000 FOR AUTOGRAPH
OF BUTTON GWINNETT

Complete Set of Signers of Declaration of Independence Broken Up, Sold for $18,987.

NEW YORK, May 4.—Rar books, manuscripts and autographs collected by the late Rev. Rodrick Terry of Newport, R. I., have been sold at auction for $18,987, with the rarest signature, that of Button Gwinnett, going to Dr. A. S. Rosenbach, bibliophile, for $10,000. The signature of Thomas Lynch Jr. brought $4,000. Dr. Rosenbach also purchased a second edition of Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream," published in London in 1600, for $200.

Gabriel Wells, rare book expert, paid $4900 for a fifteenth century illuminated manuscript executed for Francois, Count of Foix and Bishop of Andorra.

Many of the girls had tried out together for previous auditions and some groups in the orchestra or stood at the side of the theater until their turns came. Many of those who received the word to "report again" could not conceal their pleasure and jubilantly ran to their friends in the audience to tell them that they had "made it."

Former Mayor Kiel, president of the Municipal Theater Association, was on hand to watch the tryouts for a while, as was Director of Public Welfare Darst, a vice-president of the man.

The auditions continued through the day and the dancing tryouts of his official position.

WYNNEWOOD, Ok., May 4.—

Warned by an unidentified motorist who had seen the storm coming, residents of Wynnewood saved their lives from a tornado yesterday, but 200 of them were made homeless.

From a hilltop north of Wynnewood the man, believed to have been from Marietta, saw the funnel-shaped cloud twisting toward the community. He drove into town and broadcast a general warning.

"If it hadn't been for him several people might have been killed," said F. L. Tolbert. "He gave us time to get into storm cellar.

The storm moved very slowly.

"Mrs. J. A. Keith and Mrs. Charles Bradfield were cut and bruised.

The Police Board, through Commissioner Albert Bond Lambert, in day agreed to $100,000 reduction in the appropriation in this year's municipal budget. Of the $100,000, $80,000 will be cut from the item for pay of civilian employees, $21,000 from heat, light and power, and $29,000 from equipment. The reduced police appropriation, $5,061,47, will be $100,512 more than the appropriation for last year.

The $100,000 police cut was the first contribution made to the $500,000 which Budget Director Meyers has been ordered to slash from the estimates of various municipal departments, to bring the budget for municipal purposes down to $18,700,000. As only $17,200,000 municipal revenue is in sight, a deficit of $1,500,000 is contemplated, even after Meyers has made the required cuts.

Tax Rate Unchanged.

At its meeting yesterday, the Board of Estimate and Apportionment voted to fix the municipal city tax rate as last year, $1.00 on the $100 valuation for municipal purposes, plus 30 cents bond interest and sinking fund, the same as last year.

To this will be added 85 cents for schools and 15 cents for State tax, making the rate for city, State and schools $2.74, the same as last year.

Unable to balance the budget, the Board of Estimate decided to plan a budget on the basis of a $1,500,000 expected deficit, though the administration hopes that additional revenue can be obtained to reduce or offset it. The largest deficit in any previous year has been $1,379,529 for 1932-33. The deficit at the end of the 1933-34 fiscal year, last month, was about $142,000.

The sinking fund rate of 39 cents is estimated to yield $4,498,372 for payment of interest and principal on bonds this year, the peak year for retirement of 1923 bonds. This fall, short of $2,452,907 of yielding the amount needed. Mayor Dickmann is advocating new special taxes to raise this money.

Budget Director Meyers calculates an increase of the sinking fund rate from 39 to 73 cents would be necessary to raise the full amount needed in the ordinary way.

Comptroller Nolte, several weeks ago made public figures indicating the rate would have to be increased to 80 cents. Today he said he would not suggest such an increase, although he was fearful of the result if the old rate were retained.

Prospect of Taxpayers' Strike.

Nolte agreed with a suggestion by Mayor Dickmann that a large increase in the tax rate would cause a taxpayers' strike. He joined the Mayor and the third member of the Board of Estimate, Aldermanic President Neun, in voting to renew last year's rates. Neun did not attend the meeting, but voted by telephone.

"I am not worried about the prospective deficit at all," Mayor Dickmann said after the meeting.

"I think if we carry on a vigorous tax collection campaign next fall we can collect $3,000,000 or $4,000,000 more in taxes."

Nolte said he would like to be believe the Mayor was right in this,

but he and Meyers pointed out that the city gained only about $1,500,000 in extra tax collections last year

under a special remission of penalties on delinquent taxes.

Estimates on Funds.

Revenue and other funds available for the current fiscal year are estimated now at $17,200,000.

The Board of Estimate told Meyers to prepare a budget of $18,700,000 for this year, compared with estimated expenditures of $17,842,081 for the last fiscal year.

The increase is due almost altogether to the restoration of the old wage scale for city employees, whose pay was re duced 10 per cent two years ago.

Department heads had requested

$22,700,000 for this year and Meyers has pared this to $19,200,000.

Following the $100,000 police reduction, he must still shave off $400,000.

The Mayor, who left for the Ken tucky Derby last night, sent word to department heads to co-operate with

Meyers, so that the board may pass on the budget bill Monday, in time to submit it to the Aldermen

Tuesday.

The budget will be accompanied by a statement of sinking-fund needs.

The Mayor said he would announce Monday the special taxes he

he would advocate for this purpose.

The State tax rate, it was learned today, will be the same as last year, 15 cents on the $100.

It will be divided as follows:

General revenue, 5 cents;

soldier bond sinking fund, 3 cents;

ordinary fund, 3 cents; interest on ordinary funds and certificates of indebtedness in school fund, 1 cent.

The aggregate St. Louis school tax

ST. LOUIS POST-DISPATCH
SUB-AGENTS OF OIL COMPANIES ACCUSED OF GIVING REBATES

Independent Dealers to Present Affidavits to National Recovery Administration.

About 85 affidavits purporting to show that some of the subagents of large oil companies here have been giving rebates of 2 cents a gallon on gasoline sales, in violation of the NRA code, have been collected by the Independent Oil Dealers' Association and will be presented to the National Recovery Administration, E. F. Zumwinkle, vice-president of the organization, said today.

Zumwinkle said that the oil companies themselves are observing the code but that some of the subagents, who are allowed 4 cents a gallon profit, apparently are obtaining additional profit by increasing the volume of their sales through rebates. The oil companies, Zumwinkle pointed out, have no control over the actions of their agents.

To collect the data, the association sent trucks to the subagent stations, at which, Zumwinkle said, it was found that rebates were al lowed for purchase of as little as five gallons, in some instances.

"We found," declared Zumwinkle, "that at least 95 per cent of the stations, which our men visited were giving 2-cent 'kick-backs.' On the other hand, there were a number of stations that gave no rebates at all."

BONDS OR DIRECT RELIEF NECESSARY. KIEL DECLARIES

Urge Voters, Without Regard to Partisan Bias, to Support Issue as They Did in 1923.

SAYS IT IS NEEDED TO AID EMPLOYMENT

In Radio Address Asserts $16,100,000 Proposal to Be Passed on May 15, Will Create Jobs.

If the city does not provide work through its $16,100,000 bond issue, to be submitted May 15, it will ultimately have to provide direct relief at the expense of the taxpayers, former Mayor Kiel declared in a talk over radio station KWK last night.

Kiel, a Republican, is a co-chairman of the National Recovery Bond Issue Campaign Committee, serving with Mayor Dickmann and W. Frank Carter, Democrats. Carter led the 1923 bond campaign in Kiel's administration. Kiel called attention to the support given the 1923 issue by Democrats, which he called a matter of good citizenship, and insisted Republicans could not make the current proposal a partisan issue. He urged voters without regard to political affiliations, to support the bonds.

While the Democratic City Committee is supporting the city bonds and the proposed $2,000,000 school and $10,000,000 State issues, to be submitted at the same time, the Republican City Committee has not determined its attitude. It will meet to consider this question next Tuesday night, one week before the election.

Providing Payrolls. Employment provided during the depression by expenditures from the $87,672,500 bond issue of 1923 helped many citizens, Kiel said, adding: "When you vote for the bonds May 15 you are voting directly to create work. You are voting to take men off relief rolls and place them on payrolls."

Kiel reported that there were chronic objectors to all bond issues. "We encountered them in 1923, just as we are encountering them in this campaign," he said.

A billboard is being erected on Memorial Plaza, opposite City Hall, to advertise the bond propositions. Other signs will be placed on the old and new Federal Buildings. Four thousand campaign posters are being placed at principal street intersections. They bear these slogans: "Put Men to Work"; "Help the Sick and Poor"; "Let's Finish the Job." They picture men at work on various buildings. One of them shows the wooden steps of Civil Courts Building, which would be replaced with stone with bond funds.

Meetings Scheduled.

Each night the National Recovery Bond Issue Campaign Committee is providing speakers at meetings in various parts of the city. Next week a series of regional mass meetings will be held. Meetings announced for tonight, at which speakers for the bond issue will appear are:

Twelfth Ward Democratic Organization, Carondelet Library, 6800 Michigan Avenue; Twenty-seventh

Ward Democratic Organization, 5832 Easton Avenue; Tenth Ward Loyal Democratic Club, 3835 South Broadway; First Ward Republican Club, 6248 North Broadway; Ninth Ward Regular Democratic Club, 2800 South Eighteenth Street; Tenth Ward Democratic Club, 3321 Lemp Avenue; Ninth Ward, 1866 Sidney Street; Twenty-second Ward, 344 North Euclid Avenue; Croatian Club, Twenty-fifth Street and Russell Boulevard; Democratic Club of Engineers, Kings-Way Hotel; Twenty-eighth Ward Women's Democratic Club, 933 Hamilton Boulevard.

Hopeful for State Issue.

Les C. Deason of Hannibal, a Republican, district governor of Lions' Clubs, who has been touring the State in behalf of the State bond issue for eleemosynary and penal buildings, has reported extensive interest in this proposal.

He has criticised Arthur M. Curtis, Republican State chairman, and others, who have sought to raise a question of politics in the campaign.

Deason said: "If the interest I have found in my audience, especially among the Lions' Clubs, is any criterion, the bond proposal will carry by a large majority. I find a practically unanimous feeling that we have neglected the institutions long enough. It is costing us more every year to keep the old buildings in repair than would be required to service a bond issue much in excess of $10,000,000. I am willing to credit Gov. Park and the other State officials, who under the law, will have charge of spending the bond issue 'money, with honest intentions when they say they will name a high-class advisory committee to direct the program. I also credit the Federal Government with integrity in keeping track of the expenditure of $3,400,000 PWA funds, which will come to us as a gift, if we adopt this bond issue."

THOMAS WALSH, FORMER POLICE LIEUTENANT, DIES

In Charge of Detective Force at St. Louis World's Fair; Was 75 Years Old. Former Police Lieut. Thomas Walsh, who was in charge of the detective force at the World's Fair in 1904, was found dead in bed at his home at 4921 Penrose street today. He had been in good health until yesterday, when he complained of an attack of indigestion. He was 75 years old.

He began his career as a city fireman, then joined the police force June 16, 1884. He was made a detective nine years later, and a lieutenant of police in 1901. He was retired on pension for physical disability March 23, 1928.

Mr. Walsh and his walking partner, Detective Tom Tracy, solved several important cases in the nineteen years before the $80,000 payroll holdup of the Home Brewery in South St. Louis, in 1896. Three robbers were convicted.

He is survived by two sons, Detective Thomas Walsh Jr. and Patrolman George Walsh, and three daughters, Mrs. Blanche Whitaker, Mrs. Grace Bender and Miss Lucille Walsh. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Soup Plant Strike Settled. CAMDEN, N. J., May 4.—The strike at the Campbell Soup Company plant was settled last night, workers voting to accept a 7 per cent wage increase and a collective bargaining plan offered by the company.

MISS VALERIE HOBSON, ENGLISH girl, who, although she is only 16 years old and has appeared in only one motion picture, has received offers of contracts from two American movie companies. She is now on the stage in London.

EX-EMPLOYEE AWARDED $7500 IN OCCUPATIONAL DISEASE SUIT. Louis G. Pinon, 36, Alleged He Contracted Aliments by Breathing Dust and Gases.

A verdict for $7500 was returned by a jury in Circuit Court Ossing's court yesterday in favor of Louis G. Pinon, 36 years old, 1518 South Eleventh street, against the St. Louis Rust Proof Co., 514 South Broadway, in an occupational disease damage claim.

Pinon was employed as a laborer by the company for five years, during which time he alleged, he contracted "tuberculosis and other ailments" as a result of breathing dust and gases and other fumes in the plant. He charged that the employer failed to comply with provisions of a State law designed to protect employees from breathing harmful elements.

Counsel for the company contended that the plant was efficiently operated and denied the allegations. The case was on trial 14 days. Pinon sued for $25,000.

ESCAPED CONVICT AND SON ARRESTED IN ST. LOUIS.

An escaped convict from St. Elizabeth's Hospital for the criminal insane in Washington, D. C., and his 18-year-old son were arrested yesterday afternoon at Kingshighway Boulevard near Manchester Avenue by police who became suspicious of their actions.

The man, police say, admitted that he was Paul D. Barry, and had escaped from the hospital in Washington Tuesday. He said after making his escape he got his son, who lived there, and after buying some clothes, boarded a bus and arrived in St. Louis yesterday. He had $68 hidden in his shoe.

According to police, Barry was sentenced to three years for violation of the Dyer Act in 1921 and was paroled. In 1922 he shot and killed a street car conductor in Washington and was placed in the hospital.

Meetings Scheduled.

Each night the National Recovery Bond Issue Campaign Committee is providing speakers at meetings in various parts of the city. Next week a series of regional mass meetings will be held. Meetings announced for tonight, at which speakers for the bond issue will appear are:

Twelfth Ward Democratic Organization, Carondelet Library, 6800 Michigan Avenue; Twenty-seventh

Ward Democratic Organization, 5832 Easton Avenue; Tenth Ward Loyal Democratic Club, 3835 South Broadway; First Ward Republican Club, 6248 North Broadway; Ninth Ward Regular Democratic Club, 2800 South Eighteenth Street; Tenth Ward Democratic Club, 3321 Lemp Avenue; Ninth Ward, 1866 Sidney Street; Twenty-second Ward, 344 North Euclid Avenue; Croatian Club, Twenty-fifth Street and Russell Boulevard; Democratic Club of Engineers, Kings-Way Hotel; Twenty-eighth Ward Women's Democratic Club, 933 Hamilton Boulevard.

Hopeful for State Issue.

Les C. Deason of Hannibal, a Republican, district governor of Lions' Clubs, who has been touring the State in behalf of the State bond issue for eleemosynary and penal buildings, has reported extensive interest in this proposal.

He has criticised Arthur M. Curtis, Republican State chairman, and others, who have sought to raise a question of politics in the campaign.

Deason said: "If the interest I have found in my audience, especially among the Lions' Clubs, is any criterion, the bond proposal will carry by a large majority. I find a practically unanimous feeling that we have neglected the institutions long enough. It is costing us more every year to keep the old buildings in repair than would be required to service a bond issue much in excess of $10,000,000. I am willing to credit Gov. Park and the other State officials, who under the law, will have charge of spending the bond issue 'money, with honest intentions when they say they will name a high-class advisory committee to direct the program. I also credit the Federal Government with integrity in keeping track of the expenditure of $3,400,000 PWA funds, which will come to us as a gift, if we adopt this bond issue."

BELLEVILLE C. OF C. HEAD MARRIED ON WAY TO DERBY.

Miss Mary J. Ferrel and Leo Wolfert, president of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce, were married yesterday soon after they left their homes for Louisville to attend the Kentucky Derby.

The marriage was performed at Lawrenceville, Ill. Mrs. Wolfert for many years was department manager of a Belleville clothing store; Wolfert is president of a horse and mule buying firm bearing his name.

WILLIAM H. WOODIN EX-SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY, DIES

Roosevelt's Aid in Banking Crisis Succumbs in New York to Complications of Throat Infection.

HEAD OF AMERICAN CAR & FOUNDRY CO.

He Tried to Quit Cabinet Many Times Before He Did—Went on Leave Last November.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 4.—William H. Woodin, who was President Roosevelt's Secretary of the Treasury during the banking crisis last year, died last evening of complications of a throat infection. He would have been 66 years old on May 27.

Dr. Jerome Wagner gave nephritis and uremia, as the cause of death.

Death came after 10 hours of unconsciousness. Mrs. Woodin and one daughter, Mrs. Mary Minor, were at the bedside. Two other daughters, Mrs. O. F. Harvey of New York and Mrs. Wallace W. Rowe of Cincinnati, and a son, William H. Woodin Jr., who is in Arizona for his health, also survive.

Funeral services will be held at the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church at 4 p.m. Saturday. Burial will be at Berwick, Pa., the city of his youth.

Long Advised to Retire.

Physicians advised Mr. Woodin to withdraw from the Cabinet long before he did. He tried to resign several times. Finally his name was mentioned on lists obtained from J. P. Morgan & Co. as among those to be struck at reduced prices. A demand went up for his resignation. He went to the President and offered it, but Roosevelt took him on a cruise down the Potomac River over that weekend and made clear his resignation was not wanted.

Later when his health failed further, he tried again to resign. President Roosevelt asked him to hold on, saying he had done "a grand job." The President granted him an indefinite leave of absence, hoping he would improve enough to return to office, and so on leave he went to Arizona last November. But his health did not improve and he resigned Jan. 1. Henry Morganthau Jr. was sworn in as his successor.

The Secretary's condition improved somewhat when he returned to New York from Arizona on March 4. A hemorrhage sent him to the Manhattan Eye and Ear Hospital April 2. He improved again somewhat, then took a turn for the worse. He lapsed into unconsciousness yesterday afternoon and died at 5:15 p.m.

Last Thoughts of Roosevelt.

Dr. Robert Buckley said his patient in his last hours talked frequently of President Roosevelt, whom he called "Governor."

From what he said, he was extremely fond of the President," said Dr. Buckley. "He seemed to believe he was conferring with the President, saying: 'Yes, Governor. No, Governor. I don't think so, Governor."

Mr. Woodin made a picturesque Cabinet officer. He liked to play the guitar, and he did it well. Picture stamps, prints and objects of art, all of which he collected, were other hobbies of the cheery, mild-mannered little man. He had a boyish spirit that prevailed no matter how solemn the occasion.

The national banking holiday prevailed from the hour he took office. He worked at his job night and day. After a few hours' sleep he was back at the White House each morning, smiling and cheerful, talking over the next move with the President.

He Wanted to Be Doctor, Became Industrialist and Cabinet Officer. WILLIAM H. WOODIN started his career as a cleaner of castings and then as a molder in his father's plant, the American Car & Foundry Co. at Berwick. He rose to the presidency of the company and became a director in 21 other business. All of these he resigned when he became Secretary of the Treasury.

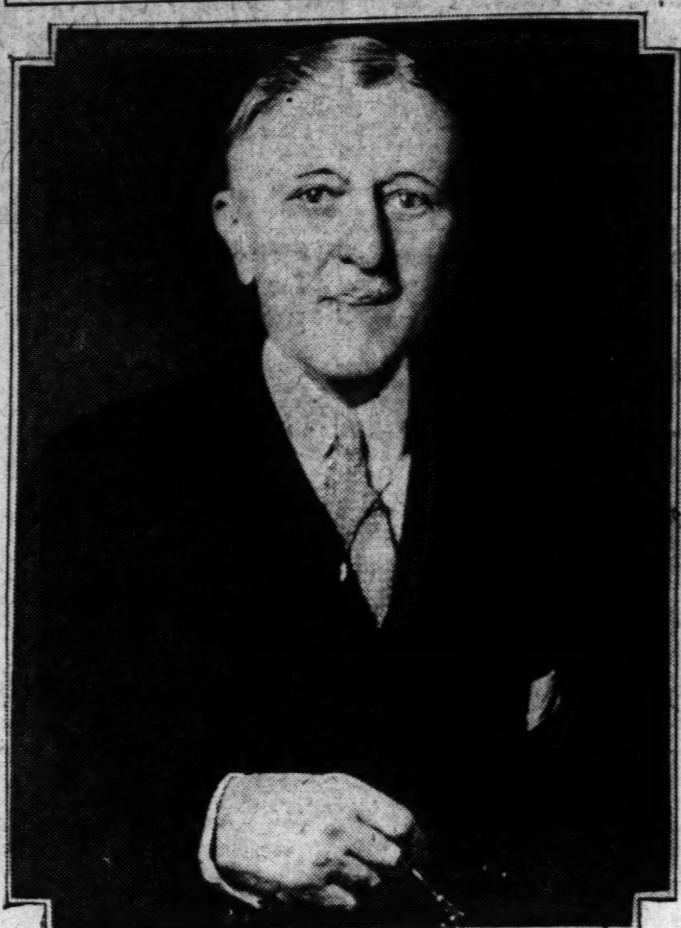

Medicine was the career he wanted as a boy, but his father wanted him, his only son, to succeed him as head of the railroad equipment firm which the Woodin family had founded in 1835. So the boy attended the Columbia University School of Mines and then went to work in his father's plant at a wage of 90 cents a day.

Industrialist, banker, collector of coins, art, composer of symphonic music and a Republican in politics, he was little known to the general public when he was selected as Secretary of the Treasury.

But while listing himself as a Republican, he had given staunch support to the Democratic national tickets of 1928 and 1932, contributing $25,000 to Alfred E. Smith's campaign and later being treasurer of a special committee set up to wipe out a deficit of $753,000 in the party treasury.

Before becoming Secretary of the Treasury his only public post had been State Fuel Director of New York. He was appointed to that place by Gov. Nathan A. Miller and controlled the price and distribution of fuel in the entire State.

25 LIQUOR LICENSE BLANKS FILLED OUT

325 Have Not Returned Information Required—No Rush at Excise Office.

Twenty-five applications for retail liquor licenses have been filled out and filed with the Excise Commissioner Scullin, out of the 350 application blanks issued by his office up to today, its third day.

Most of the 325 other applications are expected to be filled out and presented, besides those of applicants who get blanks today or later. No licenses will be issued before next week, as a police check on all applicants is required, and the Commissioner's office makes its own check of the signers of applications. Applicants for licenses to sell by the drink are required to present the signatures of a majority of property owners and first-floor tenants within 200 feet of the proposed location. Today's business was moderate in volume, 45 persons taking out application blanks up to 1 p.m.

Of the 350 who took out blanks yesterday and Wednesday, 285 planned to sell liquor by the drink and 65 to sell in the original package. Eighteen companies are among the applicants. Of the original package applicants, 46 are proprietors of drug stores, 13 have grocery stores, three general merchandise stores, two delicatessens and one a cigar store.

Beginning today, the office hours of the Excise Commissioner's office, in the Election Board Building, on Twelfth boulevard, opposite City Hall, are from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The office remained open last night and the night before, but it has appeared that these late hours are unnecessary, as the business has not proven heavy, and can be handled in the regular working day.

to Appear in Federal Court Today.

Mrs. Wilhelmina Busch Borchardt, daughter of the late Adolphus Busch, is to appear before Federal Judge Davis today at a hearing in which she seeks restoration of her American citizenship, which she lost in 1906 by marrying a German Army officer.

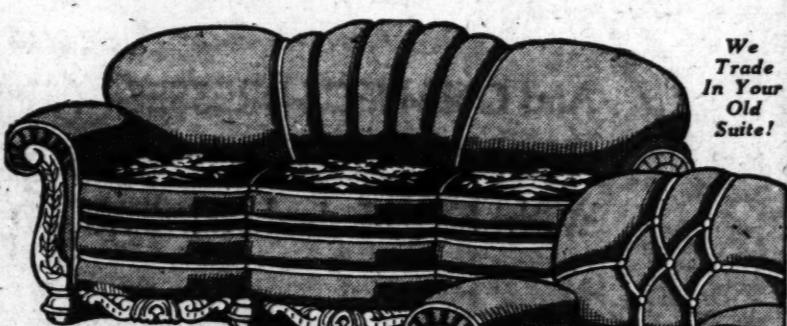

Mrs. Borchardt, who was born in St. Louis, is visiting relatives here. She has lived in Germany since 1906. The old law which provided that American women marrying aliens lost their citizenship was repealed in 1922, and the new law contains a provision that women are deprived of citizenship may seek its restoration if they have not an affirmative act sought citizenship in another country.

SOUTH SIDE NATIONAL BANK
OPENS AS NEW ORGANIZATIONDeposits and Transfers From Old Accounts Total $1,275,000;
Withdrawals $544.

South Side National Bank in St. Louis opened for business yesterday as a reorganization of the South Side National Bank of St. Louis, and accepted new deposits and transfers from old accounts totaling $1,275,000.

Frank J. Wiget, said withdrawals totaled only $34,544. About 1,800 customers, he said, visited the bank on its opening day.

When transfers have been completed the new bank will have assumed about $3,000,000 of deposits in the old, or 70 per cent of the total. Assets of the old bank not taken over by the new are to be liquidated by the Federal receiver for the benefit of depositors. The old bank has been closed since the banking holiday in March, 1933.

New Rule for Stricter Enforcement; Seven Arrests.Motorists who violate automatic traffic signals henceforth will be arrested, taken to police stations and required to give $500 bonds for appearance in police court.This order was issued by Chief of Police McCarthy last night after the suggestion of Director of Streets and Sewers McDevitt had received the approval of the Police Board. During the night seven motorists were arrested and required to give bonds.Previously for such violations motorists were given police court summons, but were not required to give bond and by paying $3 at the Traffic Bureau could avoid the necessity of appearing in court.
The new rule was proposed to foster stricter enforcement of traffic ordinances as a safety measure.

THE REV. PAUL PRESS HEADS CHURCH SYNOD

Pastor of Friedens Evangelical Had Been Ranking Officer for Month.

The Rev. Paul Press, pastor of Friedens Evangelical Church, Nineteenth street and Newhouse avenue, has succeeded to the office of president of the Evangelical Synod of North America. As first vice-president of the Synod, he has been its ranking officer since the death of the Rev. Dr. C. J. Locher April 3, but the announcement of his succession to the place was first formally made from the church headquarters, 1720 Chouteau avenue, yesterday. He will continue in his pastorate.

The Rev. Mr. Press is a graduate of Elmhurst College and of Eden Seminary and has been in the ministry of the Evangelical Church for years. He has held pastorate in Murphysboro, Ill., Mount Vernon, Ind., and since 1921, at Friedens Church here.

He was president of the Missouri District Synod from 1927 to 1931, and chairman of the board of the Evangelical Deacons' Home and Hospital from 1924 to 1930, the period in which the present Deacons' Hospital on Grand Avenue was built. He was president of the Metropolitan Church Federation of St. Louis for 1932-33.

He is a brother of the Rev. Dr. S. D. Press, president of Eden Seminary, the church's training school for ministers, now located in Webster Groves.

A national union of the Evangelical and Reformed churches now is pending, and this union, which will be the subject of a conference in June, may affect the presiding offices of both the present denominations. The Evangelical Synod of North America, by recent statistics, has 1250 congregations and 260,000 members.

QUICK RECOVERY UNDER NRA PROBABLE, ECONOMIST SAYS

Dr. Gordon Watkins of Los Angeles Speaks of Danger of "Consumers' Strike."

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 4.—Dr. Gordon Watkins, professor of economics at the University of California, said yesterday complete economic recovery is very probable in the near future under the NRA, providing no serious mistakes are made in national policy.

"Wages, salaries and income must be raised to keep pace with the cost of living, however," Dr. Watkins stated in an address before a conference on industrial problems held in connection with Catholic Action week.

"The real danger to the success of the recovery program," he continued, "is not in the intensified conflict between capital and labor, but rather in the real possibility, if not probability, of a consumers' strike."

The economist pointed out that we have to rely upon my earnings."

time, A Negro stable man came running madly across the track just after the deadline, and the Sgt. Byrne entry was allowed.

Their hard work finished, Derby candidates today took their final blowouts, to prepare them for tomorrow's test. As usual, Mata Hari stole a march on her rivals and was on the track shortly after 5 a.m. She took a five-eighths spin in 1:04, breezing after going the first quarter in :26 and a half in :51.25.

Agrarian, which has been attracting new followers daily, showed the best flight of speed to turn five-eighths in a minute flat and pulled up six furlongs in 1:13, by fractions: 23-1 and .47.

The blowout of Discovery in particular impressed back stretch observers. He ran the half in :27.25, the last quarter in :23-2.5. Spy Hill also impressed with a half in :23, three-eighths in :35, half in :23-2.5, the first quarter in :24-2.5. Thomasville went a quarter in :23-2.5 from the barrier, and Speedmore convinced onlookers of his fitness by stepping three-eighths in :33-4.5 and :35-3.5 handily.

Sgt. Byrne was unexpected to turn off a quarter in :24 and a half in :48. Prince Pompey's final test was tabbed in :26, :50-1.5 and 1:03 breezing. Quasimodo stepped a half mile half in :49-1.5.

150 NEGRO ATHLETES IN MEET TOMORROW AT JEFFERSON CITY

JEFFERSON CITY, May 4.—About 150 Negro athletes, representing 12 high schools of Missouri will take part in the annual field meet at Lincoln University bowl tomorrow.

The Vashon High School of St. Louis is favored to win the Negro State championship. Its stiffest competition will come from the Lincoln High team of Kansas City, Mo., winner of last year's championship. Other strong contenders include the Garrison High of Liberty, Mo., and the Summer High of St. Louis.

The two outstanding stars selected entered and James Buford of the Vashon High and James Farley of the Garrison High. The meet will feature Ed Gordon, Olympic broad jumper and former University of Iowa star, and Jimmy Johnson, a star sprinter from Illinois State Normal.

The meet is sponsored by the Lincoln University and the Missouri State Negro Inter-Scholastic Athletic Association.

Gym Night Program.

The annual Downtown Y. M. C. A. Gym Nite, an exhibition of the work of gymnasium classes, will be held tonight at the Downtown "Y." Sixteenth and Locust streets, with about 150 men and boys taking part. The exhibition, which starts at 8 o'clock, will include tumbling, aerobatics, scrummage ball, comedy acts and drills with Indian clubs, dumbbells and wands.

UNWILLING WITNESS GETS WRIT
BARRING HIS APPEARANCE
E. R. Harris' Attorney Tells Court of Threat by H. L. Willett in Divorce Suit.
CHICAGO, May 4.—Unwilling to bore a Master in Chancery in connection with the divorce case.
Harris' attorney told Federal

Judge Charles E. Woodward that Willett had said he would "fill him with holes" if Harris did not appear in Willett's behalf. Harris is now under indictment, charged with sending threatening letters to Mrs.
Mary Cave Hall. She has been sued by Mrs. Willett for $1,000,000. Mrs.
Willett charging her with alienating
Willett's affections.

WOMAN HIT BY STRAY BULLET: MAN SHOOTING RATS ARRESTED

Mrs. Margaret Schneider, 61, Wounded in Thigh When Walking in Alley.
Mrs. Margaret Schneider, 61 years old, 2211 South Third street, was shot in the right thigh yesterday as she was walking in an alley between Third and Fourth street, near Lam. She was treated at City Hospital.

Police investigating found William Schroer in the back yard of his home, 307A Lam street, shooting at rats with a 22-caliber rifle.
He said one of the bullets may have ricocheted into the alley. He was arrested and charged with discharging a firearm in the city.

For Foreign Trade Zones in U. S.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, May 4.—The Copeland bill, providing for the operation of foreign trade zones in ports of entry of the United States, was reported favorably yesterday by the Senate Commerce Committee. The bill, sponsored by Senator Copeland (Dem.), New York, would expedite foreign commerce by permitting manufacturers to bring in raw materials duty free for use in manufacturing articles for export use only.

SUIT TO ENJOIN RAILWAY
Master Knocked From Walls by Vibrations, It Is Alleged.
Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Nierod, 246 North Eleventh street, filed suit in Circuit Court today to enjoin the St. Louis Electric Terminal Railway Corporation from operating trains over an embankment of gravel 50 feet from their home in such manner as to disturb them.
They assert that their sleep has been interfered with and that tenants have been compelled to leave because of falling plaster, resulting from vibrations caused by trains.
Judge Green set the case for trial.

BAND, ORCHESTRA CONCERTS
ARRANGED IN CITY PARKS

48 Programs, Some in Institutions, to Be Paid for With Federal Funds.

Plans for a series of 48 band and orchestra concerts in the parks and city institutions were announced today by Superintendent of Recreation Fieldman. The Federal Emergency Relief Administration has allotted $6000 for the purpose. Fieldman said 150 musicians would be employed and would be paid $40 each. The program, under existing arrangements, will last through May. A schedule of concerts is to be made public Monday. The musicians will be divided into two 30-piece bands and five orchestras, three of nine pieces, one of 11 and one of 44.

Arrangements for the concerts were worked out by a committee of the Musicians' Mutual Benefit Association in conference with State Relief Director Crossley, Director of Public Welfare Darst and J. Otis Garber, director of work relief for the Citizens' Committee on Relief and Employment.

Samuel P. Meyers, president of the musicians' association and chairman of its committee, said recently the only about 200 of 1200 members were employed sufficiently to sustain themselves and their families, and that the association's relief funds had been exhausted. There have been no regular band concerts in the parks since 1929, when the city appropriated $3000 for that purpose.

MAN KILLED BY RAILROAD
DETECTIVE WAS A ROBBER

Identified as Rider Who Forced Evansville Taxi Man to Drive Him to E. St. Louis.

The man killed in the East St. Louis railroad yards Wednesday night when he resisted arrest by Special Railroad Agent John C. Malone, was identified last night as the robber who held up James Patton, taxicab driver, in Evansville, Ind., Wednesday, forced him to drive to East St. Louis and there robbed him of 50 cents.

He was also identified by Emil E. Deeg, Evansville druggist, as the man who held him up in his store last Friday, taking no money but a quantity of morphine, for which he offered to pay. A verdict of justifiable homicide was returned at an inquest today.

In the slain man's possession was found an envelope addressed to Walter Hicks of Evansville. East St. Louis police telephoned Evansville police, who interviewed Hicks. Hicks told them, the Evansville man, about whose identity there was some confusion, had been in Evansville and had departed for East St. Louis, on the way to his home in Wichita. An identification card in the slain man's wallet bore the name Bill Barts and two addresses in Wichita.

RUINS OF THE 'GOLDEN MILE' REPORTED FOUND IN TURKEY

Marble Blocks in Istanbul Thought to Be Relics of Byzantine Empire.

ISTANBUL, May 4.—Ruins of the "golden mile," from which all the roads of the Byzantine empire were measured, are thought to have been found by Turkish workmen, digging a modern sewer in Istanbul. The ruins were at first thought to be part of the famous hippodrome, though their location between St. Sophia and the Blue Mosque would have changed the former conception of the hippodrome's position.

Prof. Ernest Mamboury, French archeologist, says the marble blocks uncovered cannot be part of the hippodrome, as they lie too far beyond that great structure's known boundaries, which he says were fixed by British experts in 1932.

BRICKLAYERS BACK AT WORK ON NEW FEDERAL BUILDING

Strike Ends When Subcontractors Agree to Increase Wages

$2 a day. Bricklayers and stonemasons, who have been on strike at the new Federal Building, resumed work yesterday. After doing an hour's work Feb. 21 the bricklayers quit because they were paid only $10 a day, the old union scale, while the scale had been increased to $12 since John Loncaric took the subcontract for brick work. The stonemasons, whose scale was and remains $10 a day, struck in sympathy about a month later.

The question of the bricklayers' pay was referred to the Department of Labor. Secretary Perkins ruled that the $10 rate applied to this job but recommended under the circumstances that the men be paid $12. Loncaric decided to pay the higher wage. He estimated this would cost him $4000.

About 10 bricklayers and 10 stonemasons were at work today. The number of bricklayers will be increased to about 50.

15 TEMPORARY CONTRACTS LET FOR THE AIR MAIL

9 Routes Go to 5 Companies Which Reorganized After Army Took Over Canceled Service.

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Nine companies today hold the first contracts awarded by the Postoffice Department in its move to return flying of the airmail to private operators. Fifteen temporary contracts, each for 90 days, were awarded. Five of the lines formerly held airmail contracts, four are newcomers. They will begin serving routes totaling 16,797 miles within 30 days.

Simultaneously postal officials sent out a call late yesterday for bids on 10 new routes to be opened May 25, along with new offers on two routes for which proposals were rejected.

Analysis of the new contract making showed that five companies out of the dozen or so which once carried the mail were given 11 of the awards. One route apiece was handed to the newcomers.

Postmaster General Farley and officials of other departments have been studying for more than a week to determine how fully the old contract holders met the strict reorganization orders that followed cancellation of all previous contracts Feb. 20 on charges of collusion.

Reorganization Not Complete. The reorganizations, Farley said, were not complete in detail. He added, however, they had "apparently been undertaken in good faith" and had been approved on the advice of the Attorney-General after assurances the changes would be completed shortly.

A low bid of the Kohler Aviation Corporation, Grand Rapids, Mich., for the Detroit-Milwaukee run, was discarded, Farley said, because the company retained an officer, Richard W. Robbins, who took part in the 1930 conference of operators when, he asserted, resulted in awards of "illegal contracts."

Two other low bids were rejected and three were held in abeyance to await more information on qualifications of the companies.

Farley said these four now outlined and those for which new bids will be obtained May 25 would bring the airmail mileage network to 28,548. When the old contracts were canceled, 25,248 miles were being flown.

He estimated the cost of the enlarged network at $9,000,000 a year as compared with $19,454,980 in the 1933 fiscal year and the $14,000,000 appropriated for the 1934 fiscal period.

The transcontinental routes went to reorganized former carriers. Three carriers got three contracts each.

United Airlines, Inc., obtained three, one of them the Newark-Oakland run. Eastern Airlines, Inc., received the Newark-Miami, Newark-New Orleans, and Chicago-Jacksonville routes.

American Airlines Get Three. American Airlines, Inc., Chicago, was the other company credited with three.

The Newark-Los Angeles mail will be flown by TWA, Inc.

General Air Lines, Inc., Burbank, Calif., received a Salt Lake City to San Diego contract.

The new contracts receiving contracts were Long & Harman, Inc., Dallas, Tex.; Pacific Seaboard Airline, Inc., San Bruno, Calif.; Wyoming Air Service, Inc., Casper, Wyo., and Central Airlines, Inc., Pittsburgh.

The bids to be opened May 25 will be on comparatively short routes designed for the most part to serve as important links and feeder lines.

The awards were as follows:

United Airlines, Inc., Chicago, Ill., route from Newark, N. J., to Oakland, Calif., about 2720 miles, rate of bid, 38 cents per mile. Former rate paid for similar service, 42.65 cents.

TWA, Inc., Kansas City, Mo., route from Newark, N. J., to Los Angeles, Calif.; about 2609 miles. Rate 24 cents. Former rate, 44 cents. (This goes through St. Louis.)

Eastern Air Lines, Inc., Atlanta, Ga. Route from Newark, N. J., to Miami, Fla. Rate of bid, 29 cents mile. Former rate, 44 cents.

United Air Lines, Inc., Chicago. Route from Seattle, Wash., to San Diego, Calif.; rate 39.5 cents. Former rate, 44 cents.

Eastern Air Lines, Inc., Atlanta, Ga. Route from Chicago to Jacksonville, Fla., about 928 miles. Rate 19 cents per mile. Former rate 45 cents.

Long & Harman, Inc., Dallas, Tex. Route from Amarillo, Tex., to Brownsville, Tex., approximately 1238 miles. Rate 19.75. Former rate 45 cents.

United Air Lines, Inc., Chicago. Route from Salt Lake City, Utah, to Seattle, Wash. Approximately 1029 miles. Rate 39.5 cents. Former rate 44.33 cents.

General Air Lines, Inc., Burbank, Calif. Route from Salt Lake City to San Diego, 778 miles. Rate 21 cents; former rate, 45 cents.

American Airlines, Inc., Chicago. Route from Boston to Newark, 201 miles. Rate of bid, 33.33 cents. Former rate, 44 cents.

Pacific Seaboard Airlines, Inc., San Bruno, Calif. Route from Chicago to New Orleans. Rate, 17.5 cents; former rate, 45 cents. (This goes through St. Louis.)

Roosevelt Calls Him "A Great American"—Josephus Daniels Presides Over Exercises.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, May 4.—A bronze figure of the late William Jennings Bryan was unveiled here yesterday in the presence of President Roosevelt.

On behalf of the nation the President accepted the memorial with the tribute that "he chose his path not to win acclaim but rather because that path appeared clear to him from his inmost belief." The President's acceptance followed the presentation address of Josephus Daniels, Ambassador to Mexico and president of the Bryan Memorial Association.

The address of President Roosevelt follows:

"This memorial to William Jennings Bryan, erected pursuant to authorization by a joint resolution of the Congress, I gladly accept on behalf of the United States.

"Our nation thus recognizes through its Government the essential qualities and the high services of a great American."

"No selfish motive touched his public life; he held important office only as a sacred trust of honor from his country; and when he sought a mandate from his fellow citizens the soul of his inspiration was the furtherance of their interests, not his own, not of a group, but of all. No man of his time was or could have been more constantly in the limelight than he; yet we can look back and scan his record without being able to point to any instance where he took a position that did not accord with his conscience or his belief."

To Secretary Bryan political courage was not a virtue to be sought or attained, for it was an inherent part of the man. He chose his path not to win acclaim but rather because that path appeared clear to him from his inmost beliefs. He did not have to dare to do what to him seemed right; he could not do otherwise.

"It was my privilege to know William Jennings Bryan when I was a very young man. Years later both of us came to the nation's capital to serve under the leadership of Woodrow Wilson. Through his service and the intimate relations which ensued, I learned to know and to love him."

Britain Demands Japan Restrict Textile Output; Ready to Limit Imports if Negotiation Plan Fails

President Runciman of Board of Trade Tells Japanese Ambassador Ruinous Competition Must Stop.

By the Associated Press. LONDON, May 4.—With threats of widespread retaliations and a possible open trade war, Great Britain has demanded restriction of Japan's rapidly-growing textile trade.

Walter Runciman, president of the Board of Trade, placed before Japanese Ambassador Tsunesi Matsudaira yesterday a summary of the Japanese position and a list of projected curtailments of Japan's exports to crown colonies and the British Isles.

Pointing out firmly, Runciman warned Tokyo's envoy that the British Government is taking general steps to halt Japanese competition—which is said virtually to be strangling the British Textile industry—unless Japan agrees to modify her program, methods and tactics.

Matsudaira informed Runciman that he could not reply immediately, but had to consult his Government first.

Invites Quick Settlement.

At a conference especially called by him, the Board of Trade executive explained to the Japanese Ambassador the situation in British colonies and the homeland where lower-priced Japanese goods are sweeping the markets.

Runciman endeavored to show the seriousness of the problem, and said he hoped Japan would agree to negotiate quickly for a direct settlement.

It was reported that Britain is willing to compromise if Japan's reply is conciliatory.

(In a report of Harold P. Butler, director of the International Labor conference at Geneva, these statements appeared: "Japanese industry has become the most formidable competitor in the world's markets; the comparative reduction of Japanese wages in terms of other currencies is so considerable as to give a decisive advantage to Japanese industry in international markets."

"No selfish motive touched his public life; he held important office only as a sacred trust of honor from his country; and when he sought a mandate from his fellow citizens the soul of his inspiration was the furtherance of their interests, not his own, not of a group, but of all. No man of his time was or could have been more constantly in the limelight than he; yet we can look back and scan his record without being able to point to any instance where he took a position that did not accord with his conscience or his belief."

Chief of Police Jose Pedraza, expressing regret, said the trouble started when one student struck a soldier.

Educators and parents joined the students in their protests to President Carlos Mendieta. After a three-hour interview with President Mendieta, Col. Fulgencio Batista, leader of the Army, described the protest as "profoundly depressed." Batista said, however, that he was "not disposed to permit disorders which students are trying to provoke."

SHARP EARTHQUAKE IN ALASKA

READY TO OCCUPY
PORT OF YEMEN

Action May Be Necessitated by Disorders Following Capture of Hodeidah by Ibn Saud.

NOMADS LOOTING
CITY, IT IS SAID

Complete Rout of Enemy by Invading Troops of King of Saudi Arabia Is Reported.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, May 4.—British occupation of Hodeidah was threatened today because of the breakdown of the civil administration. Hodeidah, chief port of Yemen in Southern Arabia, is in anarchic state following the flight of the troops of the Imam Yahya before Ibn Saud, King of Saudi Arabia. (Saudi Arabia was formerly called the Kingdom of Hejas and Nedj.)

Reports today said Ibn Saud's formidable military machine was in possession of a great part of Yemen

—state adjoining Saudi Arabia on the south and bounded by the Red Sea, the desert and British-controlled Aden.

It is indicated that the fighting between Ibn Saud and the Imam Yahya probably is over, but that a state of anarchy exists in Yemen.

Pending the restoration of order by Ibn Saud in Hodeidah and other towns evacuated by the retreating Imam's forces, British official circles indicated it might be necessary for British authorities to take over control.

British armed forces have been dispatched to the war zone to assure the safety of foreign residents and interests.

Italy has sent warships to Hodeidah, and it is indicated France also may make some move.

Meanwhile, nomads of the desert are reported to be looting Hodeidah.

A British warship lay in Hodeidah harbor today, and a police unit was landed there because of reports of a revolution in Santa, capital of Nemen, against which Ibn Saud's forces are said to be moving.

It was said in Government quarters that there were 300 British subjects in Hodeidah.

The British commander of the sloop Penzance sent to Hodeidah to protect British nationals, was instructed to keep the port informed of developments.

Conqueror Said to Guarantee Protection to Foreigners.

By the Associated Press.

JIDDA, Arabia, May 4.—Ibn Saud, in his victorious sweep across Southwestern Arabia, was announced today as guaranteeing every protection to foreign residents in the territories which his forces occupy. He has informed representatives of foreign Powers here that the forces of his enemy, the Imam of Yemen, have withdrawn from Tohma and left the surrounding country to be occupied by his own fighting men. He said Mid was occupied April 26 and Lycian May 1.

Members of the group, named by the League of Nations, are: Miss Sarah Wambaugh of Cambridge, Mass., a native of Cincinnati, who is recognized internationally as an authority on plebiscites; Prof. Blind Galli, president of the Court of Appeals at Genoa, Italy, and Justice L. A. Nypel of the Holland Supreme Court.

The committee will prepare regulations for the vote, which will determine whether the Saar Basin reverts to Germany, which owned it before the war; remains a League of Nations protectorate, or is annexed to France. The plebiscite will be held in 1933 and is regarded as of major importance because of the possible consequences in international politics.

Miss Wambaugh, who is 52 years old, is a former teacher in Radcliffe and Wellesley colleges.

Philippines Seeks Sugar Revision.

By the Associated Press.

MANILA, P. I., May 4.—The Philippine Senate today joined the House in voting to urge Congress to alter the Jones-Costigan sugar limitation bill so that it would not be retroactive to Jan. 1, insofar as the Philippines are concerned. If Congress fails to do this, the resolution urged President Roosevelt to veto that part of the act or Secretary Wallace to modify its application to the Islands.

SANDERS RESIGNS
AS CHAIRMAN OF
G. O. P. COMMITTEE

Action Precipitates Conflict in Which Three Groups Seek to Control Organization.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, May 4.—A three-cornered fight for control of the Republican party was precipitated today by the resignation of Everett Sanders as chairman of the Republican National Committee.

The contest crystallized overnight into a struggle between the old guard, the forces of Herbert Hoover, and the leaders in the Congressional group.

The names of James E. Watson of Indiana, former Senate leader, and Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, were mentioned today as being outstanding men among the old guard.

On Capitol Hill, however, the survivors of the 1932 Roosevelt landslide who are seeking re-election this fall talked about "new blood."

The congressional minority is far from united on a chairmanship selection. One recognized leader said the 10 to 15 men of the old organization already mentioned could be definitely ruled out.

"Field Wide Open."

This statement was reflected in New York, where Charles D. Hilles, National Committeeman from that State, asserted the retirement of Sanders "leaves the field open."

There had been a definite effort within the party to put off any fight over leadership. Some had suggested that no choice be made until after the 1936 Presidential nominating convention.

Sanders in his letter of resignation called a meeting in Chicago for June 5, to elect his successor.

Those mentioned for chairmanship include Silas Straw of Chicago, Theodore Roosevelt and Charles D.

CANADIAN AIR MAIL
EARNS $80,000 PROFIT

Gives Service to Regions Not Reached by Railways.

OTTAWA, Canada, May 5.—The Canadian air mail service during 1932-33 showed a profit of about $80,000. This service transports mail to regions not reached by rail. In view of the fact that four-fifths of the area of the Dominion is not served by mail, the possibilities of extending the air mail service are considerable.

Meanwhile, nomads of the desert are reported to be looting Hodeidah.

A British warship lay in Hodeidah harbor today, and a police unit was landed there because of reports of a revolution in Santa, capital of Nemen, against which Ibn Saud's forces are said to be moving.

Mussolini Orders Work; Austrian Prisoners Kept There During World War.

ISLAND OF ELBA, May 4.—Halls and courtyards that once echoed the tread of Napoleon Bonaparte during his temporary exile here, are being restored under an order by Mussolini that the residence of the former Emperor be preserved as an historic monument.

Mussolini's order was given when he visited the island. Work was started immediately.

The Mulin Palace is to be restored in all its mural details. Work is proceeding on the museum and theater which were heritages of Napoleon's occupancy.

In World War days Napoleon's residence was used for Austrian prisoners of war. The monument will be maintained by the Italian Ministry of Education.

The unemployment relief branch operating under the supervision of the Department of National Defense has during the winter been engaged in the construction of numerous landing fields throughout the Dominion and within a short time continental air service can be projected on regular schedules.

As a result of the increasing use of the airplane in this type of work, it was recently announced that a special type of plane had been designed for the purpose of carrying mining equipment. It is hoped that this development will overcome transportation difficulties to the northern areas of rich mineral deposits.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Urge Passage of State Bond Issue.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
THE first legislative session of Gov. Caulfield's administration discussed a bond issue similar to the $10,000,000 issue now proposed. A commission, headed by Theodore Gary, was appointed to make a survey of the condition of our eleemosynary and penal institutions and report findings to the Governor. The report, after six months' investigation and an expenditure of some $40,000, showed all these institutions in a deplorable, rundown condition. The commission recommended a hike in income and inheritance taxes to get revenue to rehabilitate them. Before this legislation began to function, the depression came and the whole plan was "lost in the woods."

The present Legislature at its first session failed in providing revenue for the above-mentioned purpose, but at the special session a $10,000,000 bond issue was submitted to a vote of the people. After first voting $30,000,000 bond issue and after $75,000,000 more for good roads, there would be no legislation regarding the $10,000,000 to provide safer and better care for the State's unfortunate, especially when the Government agrees to give the State 30 per cent of the cost of labor and material.

These improvements are absolutely necessary and must be had sooner or later. It would be folly to try to raise this sum by direct taxation under present depressed conditions. So go to the polls on May 15, vote for this bond issue and show to the world that Missouri is progressive on all other lines as well as on good roads.

J. B. COLE.

A Great Spectacle.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
ON THE heels of the splendid programs that have featured the opening of St. Louis' new Auditorium, and the fine entertainment presented at the National Folk Festival, there comes to St. Louis soon a production which deserves the attention of all the people of St. Louis.

Though Yiddish in its presentation, "Yoshe Kalb" has a wider appeal and should attract everyone who has an appreciation of dramatic value and religious portrayal.

Some critics have been kind enough to say that "Yoshe Kalb" is the greatest Jewish stage spectacle that has been produced in the past decade, and Sol Goodman, who has had the courage to bring to St. Louis this beautiful drama, is deserving of the thanks of the entire community, and of the Jewish folk in particular.

WILLIAM GRAY.

Money and Credit.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
IN YOUR editorial, "The Silver Thrust," you say: "It is not the amount of money in circulation that makes the difference between good times and bad times. It is the amount of credit that is circulating." Though it has been pealed to the point of tiresomeness, it must again be said that 90 per cent of business is transacted with checks, which represent the use of bank credit. In 1929, check transactions totaled 1200 billion dollars. Last year they totaled 600 billion dollars."

Why this incongruity and barefaced fallacy? By first saying: "It is not the amount of money, etc., then declaring that 90 per cent of business is transacted with checks, you admit that 10 per cent of business is transacted with money. Therefore, you must know that if the total of business transactions increases, the 10 per cent must increase proportionately with the 90 per cent. Suppose you increase that 90 per cent till it becomes 100 per cent. Wouldn't it crowd the entire commercial world into that little state known as reductio ad absurdum?" The sum of 1200 billion in checks, being 90 per cent of the 1929 business transactions, would make the total transactions 13331.3 billion, 10 per cent of which would be 133.13 billion, which could be provided by the 10-time annual bank turnover of 133.3 billion. The money in circulation in 1929 was $4,745,296,562 (page 31, Bank Almanac, 1934). You tried to make four billion dollars do the work of 13 billion. Consequent result, the 1929 crack-up.

FRANK MAGINN.

A Year Ago and Today.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:
SOMEWHAT over a year ago, when things were really on the brink of ruin; when industry was gasping; when labor was in turnmoil and our national life was at its lowest ebb, then the people turned from wobbly leadership to Mr. Roosevelt and the New Dawn. The old attitude of misery and despair was off and the spirit to go forward was again dominant.

Now that we are on our way back, some of our foremost yellow sheets and industrial chislers are getting back their nerve and are attacking the hand that feeds them. They were in a sorry mess, but as soon as they are pulled out of their abyss and started on the way, they immediately begin the abuse and unfair tactics which the freedom of the press allows.

CURBING MINING FRAUDS.

The Federal Trade Commission has voted to revise the rules of the Securities Act governing the offering of stock issues valued at less than $100,000. This action is hailed by enemies of the Securities Act as a recession upon the part of its administrators.

Actually, the commission's regulatory arm is stronger than ever. The commission voted to exempt all security issues under $30,000 from complying with the act. Such issues are small in number and in total value. Their very smallness deprives them of the costs of high-pressure salesmanship. The commission also confines their distribution to a local radius about the enterprise. These offerings cannot foot the expense of traveling to distant and unfamiliar markets, a common trick of security-selling in the old days. Local distribution in turn puts the investor sufficiently near the enterprise so that he himself may judge of its chances to make profits.

Issues between $30,000 and $100,000 may now be issued for less than $100 per par value. This restriction had been imposed because it forced these offerings to seek the funds of a more cautious type of investor. Repealing this restriction, the commission promptly hedged the new rule about with new protections. No stock may be offered for less than par value. This prevents options to insiders. Though the commission increased the profits that may be taken for underwriting service from 10 per cent to 25 per cent, it took a tight hold on the speculator's collar by stipulating that all stock issued to promoters must be put in escrow. This stock cannot receive any dividends until all the stock issued has earned at least one year's return. Furthermore, promoters' stock cannot be unloaded on the public until this has occurred.

Promoters in this field of investment can no longer put their claims to dividends ahead of those of public investors. They can no longer dump their holdings on the public until the enterprise has proved that it could earn something, a very healthy departure from past experience.

Finally, the commission exempted issues from $30,000 to $100,000 from registration. But it compelled the filing of a prospectus which discloses all the important facts about the enterprise. Those issuing the prospectus are still liable for any false statement. Elimination of registration for this class of issues relieves the commission from investigating the claims. They take the word of promoters on issues below $100,000. Where the issue is greater, the commission probes the truth of the statements before allowing the issue to be offered to the public. The commission felt that it wanted to devote all its investigative energies to the kind of issues in which nests of fraud that does the real damage—issues over $100,000.

The real goal of the House mining bloc and all those championing the interests of the speculator against those of the investor is still unattained.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, May 4. WITHOUT doing much talking about it, the President has been working on a plan of social insurance which, if adopted, will be the most gigantic plan ever attempted by any Government. He hopes to have the Government assure every man, woman and child in the United States from the cradle to the grave.

He has been experimenting with some tentative ideas whether every American citizen, by paying 2 cents a week—or a similar trifling amount—would be protected in case of accident or old age. The millions of dollars thereby flowing into the Treasury might in time make the Government independent of the big bankers.

The details are not worked out and probably will not be for a long time. But the philosophy behind the plan is simple. It is the philosophy that the chief worry of every individual is SECURITY; that the average man doesn't crave to get rich; only wants reasonable guarantees that he can enjoy a home, educate his children and not have to peddle apples at the age of 76.

Roosevelt, himself born in the lap of luxury, having enjoyed all his life the protection of coupons to his ship, has seized upon the problem of security as the most important thing to be solved in his day.

Red Popularity.

GOOD Dr. Wirt may have scared some people about the Red menace, but he has not prevented the copper-and-gold Embassy of love from Russia being the most popular in town.

The other day Ambassador Troyanovskiy was "at home." This meant that no invitations were issued. Anyone who wanted to pay their respects could do so.

The Soviet host and hostess were ready for their guests at 5 p.m. in the usual hour. They expected about 400, had prepared tea, sandwiches, cakes for that number. At 10 every cake and sandwich in the place had vanished. A total of 200 people had streamed through the Embassy.

And after every edible thing had disappeared, a butler was heard addressing a guest:

"Pardon me but those cigarettes are not souvenirs. The Ambassador is delighted if you will smoke one of them, but don't take the whole box."

Waulding Ambition.

PERSONAL rivalry, stranger of so many great ideas, may put a crimp in what has the potentiality of being one of the most momentous investigations in recent Senatorial history.

The Senate Committee for the Probe of the Munitions Industry can't get together on the selection of a good investigator.

Obviously what the committee needs is another Pecora. No Senator since the days of Tom Walsh and Senator Dome has the time or ability to go into a painstaking investigation of the vast munitions industry, put its witnesses through their paces.

Discontent in Party.

The resignation of Sanders was predicted a week ago but was denied then by Bennett Gordon, research director for the National Committee, who said he was speaking for Sanders.

The reports at that time said Sanders was resigning because of his health. He has been ill for some time.

Rumblings of dissatisfaction at his administration have been recurrent for some time. They resulted recently in a severance of relations between the National Committee and the Senatorial and Congressional Campaign Committees. They later set up a separate publicity machine and are making plans for the congressional campaigns independently of the national organization.

ARKANSAS CHICKENS
FIRST OF SEASONSouthern Missouri Begins to Send in Spring Broilers Also.The first spring chickens have been coming in from Arkansas, with shipments starting also this week from Southern Missouri and nearby points.Shipments are increasing daily, and prices are about what they were a year ago for the first lots.No need to remind our readers of the joy of broiled or fried spring chickens, but perhaps a few hints as to frying may be welcomed.To retain the juiciness and tenderness of the meat, cook frying chickens at a moderate temperature.
Extremely high temperatures toughen the meat and make it stringy and dry. The general cooking rule is: High temperature at first for a short time, to brown the chicken, followed by lower temperature to finish the cooking and develop flavor to the utmost.Chicken may be fried as is, or it may be rolled in seasoned flour, sifted crumbs, crushed ready-to-eat cereal, cornmeal, potato meal or batter. If the pieces are first dipped into flour or crumbs, then into an egg beaten with a tablespoon of cold water, and then again into flour or crumbs they acquire a thin, smooth coating that frying transforms into a crisp golden crust. The quickest way to coat the pieces is to put the coating material into a large paper bag, put in the pieces of chicken and shake.

Southern Method.

For frying chicken in the Southern manner, one-half cup fat is put into the skillet and heated very hot. Some cooks prefer to use oil butter and half lard. The temperature is the important thing. Have it hot when the chicken is put in, then reduce the temperature. Some of the fat left in the skillet after the chicken is done is used for making cream gravy. Another way, especially convenient when cooking several chickens at a time, is to brown the pieces first over the flame, and finish cooking in a moderate or slow oven.

Maryland Fried Chicken.

Cut cleaned young chicken into pieces, dividing the breast and the back. Season some flour with salt and pepper. Roll each piece of chicken in the flour, then into egg which has been beaten with 2 tablespoons of water, and then in sifted bread crumbs.In a skillet fry out the fat from a half pound of salt pork, cut into small cubes. When all of the fat has been cooked out of the cubes, remove them and put the pieces of chicken into the hot fat. Let the chicken cook slowly, covered, for about an hour, turning the pieces often to brown them evenly on all sides. The slow cooking is most important.When the chicken is done, transfer it to hot platter. To the fat in the pan add an equal amount of flour, or 2 tablespoons of flour for each 2 tablespoons of fat. Blend flour and fat thoroughly, and then stir in gradually 1 cup of cream (not milk). Season with salt and pepper. Pour gravy over chicken.
Serve with corn fritters.

BEEF KIDNEY STEW

One beef kidney,
Six cups boiling water,
Four tablespoons flour,
One and a half teaspoons salt,
One-eighth teaspoon paprika.
Three tablespoons butter,
One hard-cooked egg.
One-eighth teaspoon pepper.With a sharp knife cut kidney into slices one-quarter inch thick.
Next separate meat from gristle and fat, then cut meat into very small pieces. Cover with cold water, press the cut meat to squeeze out blood and drain. Repeat same process, then cover again with cold water and soak two hours. Drain, cover with the boiling water, and simmer gently for one and a half hours or until kidney is tender, and there are about three cups of liquor left.
Set aside and cool. Meanwhile combine flour with enough of the cooled liquor to make a thin paste.

SURVEY SHOWS NEED OF BALANCED DIETS

Danger to Health in Bad Food Habits of Many Families.

There has been so much written and said about balanced diets, the need of fresh fruits and vegetables and of liberal supply of milk for children, that it was rather discouraging in reading the report of a recent survey made under the direction of the St. Louis Health Department and the St. Louis Dairy Council to find that only 9.2 per cent of 8136 families studied have a daily diet equivalent to the standard of the Federal Government's Bureau of Home Economics.

The lack does not seem to much to be in insufficient volume of food but in badly chosen foods and inattention to items that go to best maintain health and build up the growing child.

The oven is a danger signal to every woman to watch her step as she plans for her family.

Arrange a Food Budget.

A budget with so much for eggs, milk, vegetables, fruits, bread, meat and other foods can be arranged by any one and should be adhered to carefully, particularly if there are children in the family.

The future welfare of the youngsters today depends a lot on such a commonplace thing as what they are eating this morning, this noon and tonight.

It's worth studying and sticking to this business of adequate diets. It's not a question so much of money as it is of careful and faithful planning.

NEW CANNED CORN RECIPES
GOOD FOR LUNCHEONS

Mix the contents of one eight-ounce can of corn and equal amount of cooked carrots, two tablespoons chopped green pepper, and one cup white sauce. Add two beaten eggs, and pour into a buttered casserole. Bake in moderate oven till set or a knife comes out clean. (About 45 minutes.)

Saute one medium onion, chopped, in two tablespoons butter until golden brown. Add one tablespoon flour, and stir smooth. Add two cups canned tomatoes, two cups canned corn, two canned pimientos cut in small pieces, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon sage, and an eighth of a teaspoon pepper. Pour into a buttered baking dish. Pour thoroughly with buttered crumbs and bake in hot oven.

LAMB AND VEGETABLES
FOR ONE-DISH MEAL

Three medium sized lamb shanks. Six carrots. Six small potatoes. One-fourth cup chopped parsley. One cup canned whole tomatoes. One cup canned kernel corn. Six small onions.

Two teaspoons salt. One-fourth teaspoon pepper. Floss.

With lamb shanks with a damp cloth, put into kettle and add three cups boiling water, salt and pepper. Simmer one-half hour, then add the carrots, cut in halves, and onions. Cook three-quarters of an hour longer before adding the potatoes. When potatoes are almost done, add the tomato, corn and parsley. The sauce may be thickened if desired. Serves six.

TUNA "A LA KING"

Two tablespoonsful butter. Two tablespoonsful flour. One-half teaspoon salt. One and one-fourth cupful milk. Four tablespoonsful cream. One egg yolk, beaten. Six tablespoonsful sliced mushrooms (sauted in).

One tablespoonful butter. Two tablespoonsful pimientos, chopped.

One 13-ounce can tuna.

Melt butter. Add salt and flour. Mix well and add slowly the milk, cream and well beaten egg yolk. Beat with rotary beater several minutes. Add pimientos, sauted mushrooms, tuna fish and heat thoroughly over a double boiler. Serve on toast or in pastry cases garnished with parsley and dash of paprika.

PRUNE AND APPLE STUFFING

Three cups bread crumbs, one teaspoon salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper, one-half cup broken nut meats, one-quarter cup melted fat, one cup apples, pared, sliced and stewed.

One-half cup stewed and stoned prunes.

Blend all ingredients and fill into bird. This is good with chicken, goose or duck.

Breaded Meat Leftovers. Slice roast or meat which has been left over about one-fourth inch thick. Dip each slice into canned celery soup, then into bread crumbs, coating completely. Fry in hot fat to golden brown. Salt and pepper to taste — depending upon saltiness of meat.

TEXAS BLACKBERRIES AMONG NEW FRUITS

Carload of Arkansas Strawberries Also Received.

Blackberries are here and in no small quantities either, for a whole carload arrived from Texas Tuesday, to be placed on sale in many markets and shops at prices below last year's first comers.

Strawberries in carload lots from Arkansas set up rivalry against the Louisiana berries which are now at their peak.

Several new varieties of oranges are coming from California, including Mediterranean sweets, quite a well-known orange.

Pineapples are quite plentiful and so is rhubarb, which is very cheap this week.

Vegetables are in all shops at prices which should induce women to serve them frequently.

Spinach is so cheap this week that one dealer said he considered it "giving it away" to sell at present prices.

The new onions, both yellow and white, which are coming in now, are selling well because they are but a little higher than the old ones.

SPINACH NESTS

Bowl spinach, drain well and make nests of it on a hot platter. Fill nests with creamed, diced carrots and a little minced cook green pepper.

Or fill the spinach with crisp chopped cooked bacon mixed with chopped, hot hard-cooked eggs.

"TO ME
Good Tea MEANS INDIA TEA"

"I've tried all kinds of tea. And India Tea is my final choice. There's more to it. It's a good Black tea . . . rich, wavy and full-flavored. Its cost is no more than ordinary tea, yet it offers so much more. To get India Tea, look for the trademark (left) on packages you buy."

PEANUT BUTTER GOOD IN VARIED RECIPES

Rarebit, Ice Cream, Frosting and Cookies Among Possibilities.

Women are learning rapidly that peanut butter may be much more than just a sandwich spread. It is used now to flavor ice cream, cookies, frosting, rarebit and other dishes.

Peanut Butter Rarebit. Three tablespoonsfuls flour. Two cupfuls milk.

Four tablespoonsfuls peanut butter.

Melt butter, add flour and blend.

Add milk, add peanut butter and salt.

Cook, stirring constantly until thickened. Serve on crackers or toast. Garnish with paprika.

Peanut Pudding.

Two cupfuls milk.

Three tablespoonsfuls honey.

Three tablespoonsfuls cornstarch.

Three tablespoonsfuls peanut butter.

One-eighth teaspoonful salt.

One tablespoonful sugar.

Scald milk. Blend remaining ingredients and add to scalded milk.

Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened; place in double boiler or over hot water and cook for 15 minutes. Pour into molds, chill with cream or whipped cream.

Frozen Peanut Cream.

One cupful sugar, caramelized.

One-half cupful boiling water.

One-half teaspoonful salt.

One-half cupful peanut butter.

One and a half teaspoonsful vanilla.

One-half pint cream, whipped.

One egg white, stiffly beaten.

Place sugar in a saucepan and allow it to melt very slowly on low flame, stirring all the time; this will probably require 10 or 15 minutes. When the sugar has melted and is slightly brown, add boiling water, allow to boil for several minutes, then strain and add to the gelatin. Add salt, peanut butter and vanilla. Chill, and when slightly thickened, fold in whipped cream and stiffly beaten egg white. Freeze in refrigerator. Serve with chocolate sauce.

Chocolate Sauce.

Two squares chocolate or one-half cupful sugar.

Two tablespoonsful butter.

One teaspoonful vanilla or one teaspoonful mint extract.

Cook together water and chocolate or cocoa until boiling and thick, stirring all the time. Add sugar and allow to boil for three minutes. Take from fire, add butter, and when cool add vanilla.

Peanut Butter Roll Cookies.

Roll any favorite rolled cookie dough to one-half inch thickness. Spread with a thin layer of peanut butter and roll into a cylinder. Cut in one-half inch pieces and bake in a hot oven 10 to 15 minutes.

Pecan or Peanut Roll.

Two cupfuls white sugar.

One cupful light brown sugar.

One-half cupful corn syrup.

One cupful cream or top milk.

One-half cupful peanut butter.

One cupful pecans or peanuts.

Boil white sugar, brown sugar, syrup, vinegar and cream to soft ball stage (236-238 deg. F.). Cool to room temperature. Beat until creamy. Add peanut butter and stir until well blended. Turn onto board dusted with powdered sugar, knead until firm, shape into a roll and cover outside with pecans or chopped peanuts. Put in cool place to harden. Slice when firm.

Peanut Butter Drop Cookies.

One-fourth cupful butter.

One-half cupful peanut butter.

One-half cupful sugar.

Two egg yolks.

One cupful sifted flour, all-purpose.

Two teaspoonsful baking powder.

Two egg whites, stiffly beaten.

Cream together butter and peanut butter. Add sugar and continue creaming. Add egg yolks and mix well. Sift together flour and baking powder and add alternately with milk. Fold in stiffly beaten whites and drop by teaspoonsful on a well-greased baking sheet. Bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) for 10 minutes or until delicately brown. Bake on a rack placed rather high in the oven, as they have a tendency to brown easily. Make three dozen cookies. After baking one-half of cookies, add one-half cupful chopped roasted peanuts or dry coconut to remaining batter to make a variety of cookies.

Peanut Butter Frosting.

Three tablespoonsful peanut butter.

One tablespoonful cream or top milk.

Two tablespoonsful cold coffee.

One teaspoonful vanilla.

Powdered sugar (about one and one-half cupfuls).

Mix peanut butter with cream, coffee and vanilla. When thoroughly mixed, add sugar gradually until of consistency to spread (about one and one-half cupfuls sifted).

Slice cold roast veal. Dip slices in canned cream of tomato soup, then in bread crumbs. Fry in hot fat to golden brown.

JEWISH KEDGeree

One-pound can salmon or tuna fish. One tablespoon lemon juice. Two eggs, boiled hard. One cup rice. One tablespoon butter or cooking oil. Paprika, pepper and salt to taste. Flake fish, add lemon juice and let stand while preparing the other ingredients. Cook rice in rapidly boiling salted water, using eight cups water to one cup rice. Add one can of flaked tuna fish or salmon or both.

Creamed Tuna Fish. Put one cup milk in saucepan on stove. When hot, stir in one tablespoon butter and one tablespoon flour blended together. Add slowly the beaten yolk of one egg, stirring mixture constantly. Season to taste. Add one can of flaked tuna fish or salmon cut in bits (canned or cooked fresh shrimp may be used), onion, seasoning, celery and mayonnaise.

Next cut a two-inch slice from the center section of each green pepper, leaving each in the form of a ring. Remove the seeds and pith and place on crisp lettuce. Fill the fish mixture into the pepper rings and top with an additional festoon of mayonnaise.

Two cups shrimp. One teaspoon salt. Two teaspoons grated onion. Cayenne pepper to taste. Two-thirds cup diced celery. Three-fourths cup mayonnaise. Six green peppers.

Mix shrimp cut in bits (canned or cooked fresh shrimp may be used), onion, seasoning, celery and mayonnaise.

BELGIUM FINDS NEW KING IS A FAMILY MAN

Leopold Fond of His Children —Likes His Pipe and Glass of Beer.

By the Associated Press.

BRUSSELS, May 4.—Belgium has discovered in her new king, Leopold III, a man she never knew. So long as King Albert lived, his personality dominated and the son was looked upon as timid and preoccupied. Now things have changed.

Leopold is an early riser and a hard worker. He is at his desk shortly after 6 o'clock each morning and, like his father, studies all reports submitted for his approval.

But as king his happiest hours are those which he is allowed to devote to his family.

During these brief recesses, shared by Queen Astrid, he "lives as a free man," playing with his children or smoking his pipe and drinking a glass of gueuze, Belgian beer. He is a moderate eater and drinker, but a confirmed smoker.

Contributions of discarded clothing are the chief source of the bureau's supplies. They will be called for if donors telephone CEntral 3365.

RULES NIRA DOES NOT BAR ORDERLY PICKETING, STRIKES

New Jersey High Court Modifies Injunction Against American Federation of Silk Workers.

TRIPON, N. J., May 4.—Peaceful picketing and orderly strikes were sustained today as lawful weapons of labor under the National Industrial Recovery Act by New Jersey's highest tribunal, the Court of Errors and Appeals. The Court unanimously modified an injunction allowed by former Vice-Chancellor John J. Fallon against the American Federation of Silk Workers in a labor dispute involving the Bayonne Textile Corporation.

"The Vice-Chancellor," the opinion by Justice Harry Heher said, "proceeded on the assumption that the National Industrial Act outlawed strikes."

The Vice-Chancellor, the Court said, "was clearly in error."

"We do not find," the opinion said, "expressed in the Recovery Act a congressional purpose to deprive employees of the right to strike where, as here, their demand for a wage increase is not compiled with."

THAW TRIAL BUNGLED, EVELYN NESBIT SAYS

Declares Slayer Had Old Grudge Against Stanford White Whom He Shot.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 4.—Evelyn Nesbit, in an autobiography published today, says the late William Travers Jerome as prosecutor in the Stamford White murder trial bungled the case against Harry K. Thaw. The book is entitled "Prodigal Days: an Untold Story."

In June, 1906, Thaw, the scion of a millionaire Pittsburgh family, killed the architect as he sat with Miss Nesbit at dinner on the old Madison Square Garden.

Even though she was married to Thaw, Miss Nesbit writes that she had loved White for several years and loved him that night. For Thaw, she said she had only pity.

Miss Nesbit labels as false the long-accepted version that Thaw killed White in a fit of rage after finding her dining with him. Thaw, she writes, had long held a grudge against White, dating to the time several years previously when White disrupted Thaw's plans for an after-the-theater party by taking the invited showgirls off to a feast of his own.

After their marriage, the actress says, Thaw practiced for several hours daily at targets until he was skilled in the use of a pistol.

In discussing the trial, Miss Nesbit says Jerome from the outset wanted only an insanity verdict against Thaw and purposely failed to call witnesses, prominent in social circles, who could have proved premeditation.

The actress, who has lived in retirement for several years and whose book was withheld from publication pending the obtaining of affidavits from persons referred to, says in one particular point in her testimony she withheld her true feelings toward White from the jury at the trial.

She said Thaw was a "prisoner-at-large" during his period of incarceration at an asylum for criminals because she saw him at will and took nightly rides with him into Connecticut.

John Barrymore was her frequent companion, Miss Nesbit writes, taking her to Rector's for supper. "He called me a 'quivering pink poppy in a golden windswept space,'" she adds.

CLAYTON COUNTS POPULATION FOR POSSIBLE TAX INCREASE

Movement Under Way to Vote Funds for Public Library and Parks.

A recheck of the Clayton City census will be made to determine whether the city can increase its municipal tax rate to provide funds for a free public library and for parks, Mayor Shaw has announced.

At present Clayton, as a city of the fourth class, is permitted a maximum tax rate for municipal purposes of 50 cents, only 42 cents of which is assessed. If the recheck shows the population to be in excess of 10,000, the city, like others of the third class, will be empowered to increase the rate to a maximum of 60 cents the $100 valuation. The 1930 census gave Clayton a population of 9613. An election would be necessary to put the higher taxes into effect.

A gift of $400 by the Clayton Lions Club, the first contribution toward the establishment of a library, was announced yesterday by the Citizens' Library Committee recently appointed by the Mayor.

YOUTH ACQUITTED OF ROBBERY

William Spinelli Freed on Alibi Evidence.

William Spinelli, 22 years old, was acquitted last night by a jury in Circuit Judge Hartmann's court of a charge of robbery with a deadly weapon.

Spinelli presented an alibi and produced witnesses who testified that on the day of the robbery he was at work at Soulard Market. Following his acquittal, Spinelli was taken back to the City Jail to await trial on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon, brought against him about a month before the robbery.

CITY HOSPITAL LIGHTS OUT

Power Off for 14 Minutes Due to Broken Pipe.

Lights at City Hospital were out for 14 minutes about 7 o'clock last night when a boiler tube broke in the engine room of the hospital power plant. The lights were shut off until steam was generated in an auxiliary boiler.

Operating and obstetrical rooms were not in use at the time and the emergency lighting systems in these quarters were not put in use.

Employee Admits Stealing 72 Hats.

An employee of the Caradine Hat Co. in its warehouse at 2301 Madison street, was arrested there yesterday and admitted, according to police, that he had stolen six dozen hats, valued at $126, in the past two months. A friend of his was arrested later and, police said, admitted aiding in selling the hats, chiefly novelty head pieces for beach wear. Both were held, pending application for warrants.

Negro Gets 5 Years for Holdup.

James E. Charleston, 16-year-old Negro, 1029 North Fourteenth street, pleaded guilty of robbery and was sentenced to 5 years at Algoa Farms by Circuit Judge Baron today. Charleston was charged with robbing Casper Sarkessian, clerk of a confectionery store at 1535 Franklin avenue, on Dec. 7, 1933, when $11 was taken.

J. W. FERGUSON'S PERSONAL ESTATE VALUED AT $348,780

Worth of Real Estate Not Given in Inventory Filed in Court.

The inventory of the estate of Joseph W. Ferguson, retired lumber dealer who died Dec. 9 at McAllen, Tex., was filed today in Probate Court. It listed personal property valued at $348,780, and real estate in Florida, Texas, and Oregon on which no value was placed.

Notes comprised $256,346 of the personal property, bonds $8000, cash $6445, and corporation stock $11,615, a nominal value believed to be a good deal less than the actual worth.

Under the will, the widow, Mrs. Leonard J. Martin, 6222 McPherson avenue, received the real estate, the sons, Joseph C. Charles M. and William, $20,000 each, and the residue of the estate is placed in trust for the widow, the sons and a daughter, Mrs. Margaret K. Dietrich of Erie, Pa.

ARMY CUTS COAST-TO-COAST MAIL SCHEDULE 4 1-2 HOURS

Silvia Martin, 18, Applied for License, But Is Quoted as Saying It Was Mistake.

GREENWICH, Conn., May 4.—The romance of Sylvia Martin, 18-year-old New York debutante, and her hair dresser finance, Robert E. Esquelle, apparently was at an end today. They applied for a marriage license Wednesday but did not obtain it because under Connecticut law a girl less than 21 years of age must obtain her parents' consent to marry.

"There will be no marriage," said Mrs. Leonard J. Martin, Sylvia's mother, adding that her daughter had agreed that the proposed marriage was a mistake.

Martin is reported to have amassed a fortune of $120,000 after the World War through the sale of airplane linen. Sylvia's British automobile racer, in 1922.

Washington Policeman Convicted.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Alfred O. Wilmot Jr., of Milwaukee, a lieutenant on the capital police force, was held guilty today of assault and battery by Judge Ralph Given, of District Police Court to day. The judge indicated he would assess a small fine but permitted the defense four days to file motions. Wilmot was charged with assaulting George Smith, an unemployed jockey, March 18.

TALK OF CITY'S BUYING ARENA INSTEAD OF BUILDING ARMORY

Bond Proposal Would Permit It, But Plan Is to Get PWA Construction Grant.

Wording of proposition No. 8 in the $16,100,000 city bond issue proposal to be submitted to voters May 15 would permit the city to buy an existing building for a National Guard armory, instead of building one, if desired. Proposition No. 8 is for $1,000,000 for an armory.

There has been some talk at City Hall that purchase of the Arena, $700 Oakland avenue, might be considered. However, the city has applied to the PWA for a grant to augment this item, stating in its application that a new structure would be erected on the site of the present armory of the 138th Infantry, Grand boulevard and Market street.

The Arena, built about six years ago, cost $2,300,000, including $1,700,000 for construction, $200,000 for equipment and $400,000 for site. A proposal was made during Mayor Miller's administration to have the city buy it for a convention hall, instead of erecting Municipal Auditorium, but the city decided against this.

JOHN MORTIMER SCHIFF AND EDITH BAKER WED

Two Prominent New York Banking Families United by Marriage.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, May 4.—The grandchildren of two of New York's most prominent bankers and philanthropists were married yesterday afternoon when Edith Brevoort Baker became the bride of John Mortimer Schiff.

Mrs. Baker is the granddaughter of the late George F. Baker, chairman of the First National Bank. Baker founded the Harvard School of Business Administration with a $5,000,000 gift and gave Baker Field to Columbia University, as well as large amounts to Cornell, Dartmouth and New York University.

Schiff's grandfather, the late Jacob H. Schiff, was head of the banking firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Baker. Her Park avenue.

He and his family also were prominent as philanthropists, notably in gifts to the Boy Scout movement.

Ceremony at Bride's Home. The wedding took place in the Park avenue home of the bride, Chief Justice Frederic Kornochan of the Court of Special Sessions performed the ceremony.

The bride's attendants were Mrs. Dayton Cooper, Miss Emily Lawrence, Miss George W. Whelan and Miss Ross O'Neill. Windows with Miss Adele Hall as flower girl.

Paul Felix Warburg was best man. The ushers were George F. Baker Jr., W. Gurnee Dyer, Thomas Leiter, Malcolm S. McConahey Jr., Stephan Van Renesse and Frederick M. Warburg.

The bride, who attended Miss Hewitt's School, studied in Paris and made her debut at a brilliant ball in 1931, is noted as a pianist and composer.

Polka Dotted Scarfs on New Wash Dresses

Little Touches Make the Summer Costumes—News of Local Stores.

By Sylvia

If you make a careful study of the most clever summer costumes on display in the stores, you'll learn to your satisfaction that many own the bold and simple, little touches. A white washable silk frock, for example, would not get a bit of praise if it were not for its polka dotted scarf and belt. Red crepe dotted with white forms an interesting cowboy kerchief and a wide, tailored belt. The same idea is carried out with green and with yellow.

The colors of the blouse of a boucle suit are responsible for its fashion glory. The suit, by the way, is of that popular new shade, lotus blue. But the blouse—or sweater, if you prefer to call it that—isn't particular about its choice of shades. Cross stripes of red, yellow, green, blue and white mingle together quite gaily. A frilly collar and jabot give this costume a dressy appearance.

A navy sheer frock that is quite plainly tailored owes its distinction to the latticework effect produced by tucks. These cover the entire surface of the frock, forming a big squares that suggest a lattice. Silk pique forms a square collar and straight band cuffs on the three-quarter length sleeves. Summer coats of sheer woolen also display a new beauty because of their cross-tucked designs.

You don't need to worry about those new twed skirts being too warm for St. Louis wear using the summer months. Many of them look like wool but they are made of cotton. Outmost effect predominate regardless of style or color. But if you want to be quite up-to-date you will select one of those dusty pastel shades. As for the style, the front buttoned model can't be overlooked this season.

A silk frock can be as sail-like as one of linen or cotton. Proof of this is a sports dress of white washable crepe trimmed with bands of navy blue. The sailor collar has this dark blue trimming as does the front of the blouse. Four eyelets of white pearl appear at either side of the front, through which a cord of the navy silk is laced. The wide belt is formed of strips of blue and white.

You must wear a flower on your cuff if you want to prove you know the latest fashion fancies. One way of doing this is to have a fabric flower appliqued on the cuff of your new organdie gauntlets. Another is to have your crocheted glove cuffed with flowered voile. If you adopt this latter method of accessory chic, a scarf may be obtained to match the printed cuff.

When planning your summer sports wardrobe, don't forget to include a flexwood bag. It is the ideal complement of a swagger outfit whether silk, synthetic or cotton. Some of these bags have colored leather trimmings. One, for example, in the envelope shape has a small flap edged with red leather. Another is intended to brighten a costume combining natural and green.

If you have a few yards of use-less string and silk cord you might get busy and create some beach sandals. There are some new ones in the stores which look as though they had been made at home in idle moments. Interlacings of white string and red silk cord form this novelty footwear. Another sandal is composed of strips of braided leather.

Most of the hats are of cart-wheel size but occasionally a small one comes along to claim some attention. A novelty little pink bonnet fits into the latter classification. It is reminiscent of the helmets that the boys wore at the front, but is worn far back on the head. A row of tiny pink flowers circles its brim. Pale blue velvet ribbon forms a bow at one side.

Welsh Rabbit For Three
Three tablespoons butter
Three tablespoons flour
Two cups milk
Two-thirds cup cheese, cut fine
One-half teaspoon salt
One-fourth teaspoon paprika
One-fourth teaspoon celery salt
Two eggs, beaten
One tablespoon catsup
Melt butter and add flour. Mix and add milk and cook until creamy sauce forms. Stir constantly. Add cheese, paprika and celery salt well. Heat for 1 minute. Add rest of ingredients, mix and serve immediately poured over hot buttered toast.

The Symbolic Significance Of Gay Hats

They Indicate Pride and Gratitude in 50 Years of Living.

By Elsie Robinson

(Copyright, 1934.)

I WEAR gay hats! Red hats; bold black and white, with saucy crowns and swooping, swagging brims; Gay hats, that hardly match my tired eyes—

Grey hair, and wrinkling skin, and slowing gait—

Instead of small, sedate, dark turbans which would suit my fifty years.

I wear gay hats!

And sometimes giggling girls pass me and whisper—

"See! The poor old thing! She tries so hard to still look young!"

"Why can't she realize it's not worth one's while?"

"To wear gay hats when one's past forty!"

Listening, I smile, and think, and pull my big brim lower till it seems to wink,

And in my heart a small, wise song begins to sing . . .

"I wear gay hats!"

"And hats like these, they say, don't match my years."

"But who could years condemn one to wear gray?"

"Why mourn because one's fifty?"

"Sure, it's a break."

"To have lived 50 years upon this earth!"

"I wear gay hats!"

"Because my soul is gay and grateful!"

"It's a privilege to have been alive for all these years;

"To have been able to live deeply,

"Not as dumb brutes live who have no urge outside their stupid flesh,

"But as men live who dare to think and feel;

"Brave men, who dare to ask what life is all about,

"And dare to pay the price the answer costs!"

"I wear gay hats!"

"As soldiers carry flags above their broken bodies and their blood-stained rags."

"So I wear sweeping brims—BE-CAUSE I'M PROUD!"

"I wear gay hats!"

"All that they held of laughter, love and tears,

"Romance, adventure, rebellion, reckless risk, hardship and boredom, heart break and delight."

"I've blundered often, bullied, loafed and lied,

"And yet I've somehow dared to stay alive!"

"And so—I WEAR GAY HATS ABOVE MY FIFTY YEARS!"

"Sorry for wrinkles? Filled with old age fears?"

"Not I! Let those who still are damp behind the ears be sorry."

"Envoy me my years! I'M FIFTY!"

Candied Sweet Potatoes

Two cooked potatoes.

Three tablespoons bacon fat.

One-tablespoon butter.

Arrange potatoes in shallow pan.

Add rest of ingredients. Cover and bake 20 minutes. Turn frequently. Remove cover, bake 15 minutes.

A Letter From a Woman Who Helped a Small Boy and the Latter's Note of Appreciation

By MARTHA CARR

My Dear Mrs. Carr:
I HAD a little white rabbit given to me Easter by a little boy who could not keep it and am sending it on to the little crippled boy Calvin L. who had expressed a wish for a white rabbit. Also I was at Koch Hospital Sunday; took the girls plants that were given me by Mrs. E. H. S. and a neighbor, for these girls who had asked for them in your column. Mrs. S. is an invaluable nurse.

The nurse told me that some of the girls who wrote you said perhaps they shouldn't have written you, Mrs. Carr, because they are Negroes. I love to help them too.
I feel God is no respecter of persons or color. I had written them to have their bed all made for the flowers. And they were ready and waiting on the porch. When I got out of my car, their faces fairly radiated thanks.

I wish, Mrs. Carr, you could see their quarters, they are so nice and clean, and the nurse plans their entertainment. They have a fireplace in the living room, partly decorated by an artist for them. I want to say that Koch Hospital is one of the best places or institutions which is really human. I must tell you too, Mrs. Carr, that a famous company has promised us a piano for the "Veranda Girls," which they will probably get within a week.

Now Mrs. Carr, I do not know if in all my enthusiasm and hurry, I have ever thanked you for the wonderful help you have been to me. I found this work through you, and it helped me recover from a serious breakdown and I have found happiness in it that no amount of money could buy. God bless you in everything you do.

B. E.

My only social life is through my church. But I find most pleasure in my little boy and in trying to see good in everyone; living in such a manner that everyone is good to
you.

I am not old-fashioned, Mrs. Carr, but I do believe in the old saying that "the world is what you make it"
and I feel if Elsie will start looking for good in men, she will find there are many.

And to Mr. "Afraid," I want to say: Keep high ideals and sometimes things will work out for you.
I am only 28, but my worries and troubles have made me older and helped me to see clearer. And as my boy grows older I hope to grow younger with him. GLADYS.

Dear Mrs. Carr:
ONIGHT I read your most interesting column and the letter from "Elsie" and the answers. I was most impressed by the one signed "Afraid." I feel sure "Elsie" has the wrong idea. Like "Afraid"
I was happily married but four months before our baby came, the other woman took my husband from me, which is many times worse than losing them through death. So you see what women are like some times.

My only social life is through my church. But I find most pleasure in
my little boy and in trying to
see good in everyone; living in such a manner that everyone is good to
you.

I am only 28, but my worries and
troubles have made me older and helped me to see clearer. And as my boy grows older I hope to grow
younger with him. GLADYS.

Dear Mrs. Carr:

"Elsie" and the answers. I was most impressed by the one signed "Afraid." I feel sure "Elsie"

I was happily married but four months before our baby came, the
other woman took my husband from me, which is many times worse

times.

My only social life is through my church. But I find most pleasure in
my little boy and in trying to
see good in everyone; living in such a manner that everyone is good to
you.

Moving a Four-Acre Garden in St. Louis County

How Mrs. Edward H. Simmons Tore Up and Established All Her Favorite Trees, Shrubs and Flowers to Make a Newer Outdoor Beauty Spot.

By ELEANOR CONANT.

OUT on Wydown boulevard, this new garden is in three units, on as many levels. The setting sun slants through very tall trees on the west and on the east is a red brick wall garden terminal with marble fountain head, and pool with marble fountains.

Now, after only six months in the new location, the garden not only has proportion and balance, but it gives the appearance of having been there for a great many years.

Last October the evergreens were transplanted, then the iris, narcissus and jonquils and after the first frost, the other shrubs were moved.

On the upper level, adjoining the house, is the evergreen garden with just a suspicion of formality in its great marble well head, set against a background of cedars, in the well known Italian manner. One of the unexpected developments here was the volunteer jonquils which literally sprang from the earth as soon as spring crept into this garden. Flagging sets, set not too close together, lead down to the lower level. On the step treads, violets and saxifrage in clumps grow in the crevices with fine disregard for law and order.

Recently a strategic offer presented itself to dispose of the corner four acres—but it was not without misgiving that Mrs. Simmons had given up a garden she had been 20 years in the making.

Finally it was decided, after conferences with Peter Seitzer, garden architect, to evacuate and to move the entire house and contents to an entirely new arrangement.

small. In the corner beds are blue troughs and down into the blue iris are clumped in neatly labeled narcissus, Madonna lilies, muscari and tulips and what the exaggerated husband of a garden convert once referred to as "those damn mer- tensias"—trembling in pink and blue.

The lower garden is a real achievement—in that although complete to the last detail, it has avoided any suggestion of redundancy. The greenest grass spreads out under the foot and the whole garden design is picked out in clumps of white tulips with an understow of white violets. An old Italian blue trellis fence extends behind the side beds, which are an artful confusion of lilies, delphinium and wild flower clumps. The old brick terminal wall has a weather beaten marble fountain inset (which it happens to be in the cellar for over 14 years). The water flows into marble troughs and down into the blue iris are clumped in neatly labeled narcissus, Madonna lilies, muscari and tulips and what the exaggerated

Many Jewels
On Low-Heeled
Dance-Sandals

By Dorothy Roe

NEW YORK, May 1
LOW-HEELED evening slippers are the current sensation in the shops. For the first time since grandmother was a girl, dancing will dance this season in low-heeled sandals, modeled after the dainty footgear fancied by Helen of Troy or Cleopatra.

But if you think the low-heeled fashion is one of those same sensible moves, you're all wrong. Nothing could be more frivolous or glamorous or any other allied adjective than the bejeweled affairs that are decorating our best shop windows these days.

Elegant footgear seems to be the keynote of the season, and the newest dance sandals consist of a couple of sequin-studded straps across the toes and one around the heel. The toes are exposed in the newest sandals, which are designed to be worn without stockings, allowing full prominence to gaily painted toenails.

One of the most striking evening slippers seen about town is a low-heeled style, its straps decorated with mirror paillettes in every color under the sun.

The rhinestone studded sandal is another inspiration of the shoe designers, and though the low-heeled style is presented as the last whisper-in-chic, there are still spin heels for those diminutive girls who demand extra height.

Some of the new sandals are white with color satin linings, the color being revealed in brief glimpses as the foot is in motion.

Measuring Shortening

Shortening may be measured accurately in this manner. If the recipe calls for one-third of a cup shortening, fill a measuring cup two-thirds full of water and then add shortening to bring the water to the top of the cup. Pour off the water and you have exactly one-third cup shortening.

A Fleet of Soap Boxes

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

May day passed quietly like a poker player with two treys. Union Square is still home plate for the Communists. But 20,000 New York police were the base umpires.

That's why the Reds kept their ears in line like cornstalks on a Kansas farm. New York adopted daylight saving time so the coppers could swing their night sticks in the sunshine.

But you cannot stop a Red from yelling. He would leave Utopia if the acoustics were bad. A soap box ain't a bad rostrum. It should also make a pretty good boat.

We would like to see a big fleet of those boxes sailing toward Europe. With a full crew in each one.

GULLY RETAINED BY

The January term St. Louis County grand jury, in its first port today to Circuit Judge at Clayton, said "inefficiency to engulf the whole of the financial structure." It made following recommendations: Creation of the office of Auditor.

Installation of an informal system of bookkeeping in office of the Clerk of the County Court.

Substitution of tax audit notes for the system of tested warrants that has been used for years because of a saving in interest by the County.

Filing of suits to recover funds illegally retained by county officers.

Establishment of a separate tax to support the County Court.

Designation of the County Court as the purchasing agent for all county departments, control of supplies under requisitions.

Recent action of the judges of the County Court, or administrative body, in voting to in their own pay from $4500 to a year each, retroactive to 1933, was denounced by grand jury as "salary grab and an unwarranted gouge of taxpayers."

Causes of Deficit
Concerning county financial grand jury said:

"This grand jury, pursuant to charges received, has made a comprehensive examination of county finances to determine the several contributing causes to the present deficit and the cause for operating on an annual revenue. The findings of the are as follows:

"First: There are about 100 county departments, each with existing laws, operate separate and distinct entities responsible for no direction, making purchases and contracts in many instances, collectively out of which their respective departments operate, while the County Court, which is in name the managing body of the county, occupied chiefly with insurance for the payment of a frequently incurred without sanction.

Bookkeeping System "Outdated."

"Second: The Clerk of the County Court has for years past does now employ a system of bookkeeping which is obsolete, inadequate and a travesty of modern science of accounting, resulting in a waste, carelessness, extravagance, and a loss of money.

"Third: The County Court is a great and continuing drain on the revenues of the county, estimating the annual sum of since the time of its creation, which to maintain it was "Fourth: An audit of the County Court's books completed in Dec. 1932, a cost said to mate $30,000, was compiled by State Auditor. This report little value as an index to summarize all capital receipts as against disbursements in a general total of all offices. It seems to be little more than a tabulation of issued vouchers, the only merit that it may possess is that it directs attention to what would seem glaring discrepancies. This was received and filed by County Court Dec. 31, 1932, remained on file without any attention despite the
